TOWNSPEOPLE ARE EAGER TO SURRENDER

No Resistance Is Encountered As Italian Army Parades Into Makale

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY AT MAKALE, Nov. 8.—With full triumphal ceremony, but with all precautions against the attack that failed to materialize, Italian troops paraded into Makale at 9 o'clock this morning, raising the Italian flag over the imperial palace for the first time in 40 years.

Achieving the objectives of a five-day push over sixty miles of mountains and mud-soaked ravines, the four Italian columns advanced all along the line.

The eastern flank of Danakili tribesmen, on the fringe of the Danakil desert, moved into Azbi.

Moving parallel with General Rodolfo Santini's main column, his blackshirts took Dolo, west of Makale. Far to the west, the columns that had pressed down from Aksum, under General Pietro Maravigna, completed occupation of Adi Abo.

March Into City

Deepest darkness still covered the mountain tops overlooking the Makale plain, where the troops of the first army corps had bivouacked during the night, when the buglers sounded reveille at 2 a. m.

By 3 o'clock the regulars had

Landon And Hoffman Make Preliminary Bids

GOVERNOR LANDON — GOVERNOR DAVEY — GOVERNOR HOFFMAN

Political observers regard the speaking engagements of Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas and Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey in Cleveland as a preliminary showing of what may be the one-two men on the Republican presidential ticket in 1936. Landon and Hoffman, together with Gov. Martin L. Davey, Democrat, of Ohio, were invited to address the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. Landon, shown above with Governor Davey, center, and Governor Hoffman, right, urged: "Let us be certain that we are making only those changes which are real improvements—changes dictated not by wishful theory but by the stern teachings of experience." Governor Hoffman spoke on the constitution. Governor Davey, who delivered the address of welcome, has been considered an anti-New Deal Democrat. Landon was born not far from Cleveland—in Mercer county, Pennsylvania.

Huge Stack Is Toppled Over

Old Rosena Furnace Stack Blasted Down At 11 O'Clock Today

LARGE CROWD SEES BIG PILLAR FALL

A powerful charge of dynamite at the stroke of 11 o'clock this morning brought the towering 185 foot concrete and brick stack at the old Rosena furnace grounds, South Mill street thundering to the ground—and full satisfaction to the hundreds of curious spectators in the area, who had watched for the crash all morning.

The "telling" blast was the fourth dynamite charge of the morning. The other three and another on Thursday morning had weakened the base of the 500-ton pillar.

For all the city—especially for the throng who saw it—the tumble of the stack was a flirst-class show.

Not for years has there been a wrecking job of such major proportions and there were scores circling the scene to watch the giant chimney drop.

Everything was tense as the signal for the final blast was given.

The Frengel & Snyder company, the wreckers, had said the stack would fall towards the Carnegie auditorium and that a powerful truck and a crane would see to it that it fell that way. A strong cable had

Judge At Baltimore Declares U.S. Utilities Act Unconstitutional

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The sweeping decision of Federal Judge William C. Coleman in Baltimore, holding the utilities act unconstitutional, created consternation in administration circles today.

Department of justice officials said that because the government was not directly a party in the case it cannot force an immediate appeal to the United States supreme court.

The administration thus was faced with a ruling of unconstitutionality and uncertainty as to when a final ruling could be obtained from the nation's highest legal tribunal.

The case originated when trustees of the American states public utility company, which is under reorganization under the special bankruptcy law, sought instructions from the court.

The government was permitted to be heard, with Benjamin V. Cohen and Thomas Corcoran, reputed authors of the law, arguing as special assistant attorneys-general.

To Push Supreme Court Appeal

One effect of the ruling is expected to be an effort by the government, either in this or in other cases, to push an appeal to the supreme court as rapidly as possible.

Judge Coleman, who was appointed by President Hoover in 1927, handed down a ruling sweeping in nature. He held:

1. Congress attempted to regulate intrastate business, and the act is

Drive On Gondar By Italian Troops Is Being Launched

Britain Watches Developments — Town Near Source Of Blue Nile River

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 8—Italian troops launched a two-pronged drive on the city of Gondar, important city in Northwestern Ethiopia, only 25 miles north of Lake Tsana, according to reports received here today.

Lake Tsana is one of the main sources of the Blue Nile river, vital to Britain's irrigation system in Egypt. Gondar is about 125 miles south of the Eritrean border and is located on a main route from Northwestern Ethiopia into Addis Ababa.

Reuters news agency in a Rome dispatch reported Italian troops, composed of native irregulars and mechanized regular units, were advancing on Gondar from Adi Abo, in the Aksum area, under General Pietro Maravigna. These forces, the first army corps, had first occupied Adi Abo.

In addition, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome, the extreme Italian right wing crossed the Setit river in three places near the border of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, repulsing Ethiopian forces under Dedjasatch Myalen Birra. The river is the Eritrean-Ethiopian border.

These troops also are aiming at Gondar, according to Central News, in a manoeuver to out-flank the Ethiopian forces gathered beyond Makale under Ras Seyum and Ras Kassa.

Chancellor Adolph Hitler Orders Elimination Of Lukewarm Organization

ENTIRE BODY IS WIPED OUT

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Completing in one sweep the elimination of veterans' orders considered lukewarm to Nazism, Chancellor Adolf Hitler today abolished the Steel Helmets.

An official announcement said the organization had been wiped out by Hitler "in agreement" with the Steel Helmets' leader, Franz Seldte, who is also Reich minister of labor.

It was asserted in well-informed circles, however, that Seldte fought a long uphill battle to save his group.

For months, during the period that also witnessed an intense drive against alleged political activities in the Lutheran and Catholic churches and against Jews, the Steel Helmets, or Stahlhelm, were gradually shorn of their power.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 8.—Department of justice agents, U. S. postoffice inspectors and state highway patrolmen swarmed into Cleveland today on the trail of six machine-gun bandits who yesterday staged a daring $46,450 train robbery at Garrettsville, some miles south of here.

All enforcement agencies of the state and nation in this area joined in the search for the gunmen, believed to be members of a northern Ohio gang that has grabbed $74,450 in three robberies in this area during the past month.

England-Italy Conciliation Is Quite Hopeless

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 8.—France has given up hope of conciliating Italy and England for the present, it was learned today in foreign office circles.

With Italian troops steadily pushing their way into the interior of Abyssinia, Premier Laval has decided to let events take their course.

It is understood Laval is confident sanctions will force Italy to negotiate in approximately three months time.

He is of the opinion, the same source disclosed, that if the Italian advance continues at the present pace that Haile Selassie, by that time, will be quite willing to seek a peace which will meet Mussolini's demands half way.

Diplomatic circles report that Laval is very disturbed over articles published in the Italian press which label France as "Enemy No. 2" "Enemy No. 1" is England. He is reported as desirous of avoiding further antagonism of Italian public opinion in order to maintain the recent bond allying Italy and France as "the Latin sisters."

"Mercy" Baby Killing Admissions Are Shock To People Of England

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 8. — England's shocked amazement at the admission of a physician, that he had strangled two babies and poisoned three men in the interests of "mercy," was increased today by the statement of the secretary of the newly organizd "Euthanasia Legalization Society" that "other doctors have told me similar stories."

Although the unnamed physician's letter to the Daily Mail which gave England its first shock was a confession of five murders, it seemed unlikely this morning that any criminal action would be brought against him.

Abyssinia was crowded to one side on the front pages as eminent doctors and supervising nurses were quoted in their protestations that they had never known members of their professions deliberately to take life.

HURRICANE COURSE CHANGED

Disturbance Is Diminished

Cedar Keys, Florida, In Line Of Tropical Storm At Present

MAY BE REACHED THIS AFTERNOON

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 8—Changing its course without warning, a tropical disturbance which swept Southern Florida last Monday, today was headed in the direction of Cedar Keys, Fla. a small town located on the northern Gulf coast of the state, directly north of Tampa.

The disturbance was reported somewhat diminished in intensity but probably still attended by strong winds over a very small area near the center.

According to a weather bureau advisory at 2 a. m., C. S. T. here the center was located 80 to 100 miles south of Apalachicola, Fla., moving east or east-northeast.

Indications are that the disturbance will reach the coast at or in the vicinity of Cedar Keys this afternoon.

Storm warnings remained displayed on the Florida coast from Panama City as far south as Tampa.

ITALIAN TROOPS ENTER MAKALE; NOW HOLD TOWN

breakfasted on bread and coffee, and started to move down the mountain valley.

The native troops of Ras Gugsa, former son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, who brought over 15,000 men to the Italian cause, had camped within two miles of Makale, but General Santini's troops, detailed to enter Makale, had a much longer march.

Twenty airplanes rolled and swooped all around the advancing lines, and speedy little tanks whipped around the column's flanks, scouting for ambushes. Ethiopian concentrations were visible to the airmen south of Makale, but not a shot was fired as the town was taken.

By 7 o'clock the favored detachments that were to take the city were gathered outside the eastern gate. Included were an infantry brigade, under command of Col. Broglia, the third regiment of Bersaglieri, and Gugsa's disorganized natives.

People Surrender

Ras Gugsa himself, resplendent in a cloak, insignium of an Abyssinian prince, flung over is sober Italian uniform, rode with Col. Broglia's forces and a small group of his personal henchmen.

As the troops formed to move into the city, they were greeted by townspeople, bearing gifts, and priests, who raised their coptic crosses to be kissed, in token of surrender.

The troops entered Makale in measured pace, with all the dignity fitting to the occasion of the recapture of Makale, one more event in the "vengeance" of Italy for the disastrous campaign of 1896.

The units paraded through the city's market place, bands playing military airs, followed by the "giovanezza", which the officers and men sang lustily.

The Italian tricolor was then slowly raised over the imperial palace.

The enthusiasm of Ras Gugsa's troops, however, could not be restrained, and they swaggered into the imperial palace and through the streets, for this was their "home town."

"MERCY" KILLINGS SHOCKS ENGLAND

their demands for a change in the law defining murder.

The secretary of the society, Dr. Killick Millard, said, "it all points to urgent necessity of revision of the laws."

Lord Listowel, one of the founders of the society, said, "we cannot encourage the doctor's action contrary to the law, but we must admire the doctor's courage."

Before publishing the letter which started the controversy the Daily Mail contacted the writer and found him to be "a kindly faced elderly family doctor."

Seldom has a "letter-to-the-editor-writer" caused such a sensation.

His column-long epistle entitled, "The Right to Kill," has revived the Euthanasia issue as the question of "mercy deaths" is called.

Surgeon Calls Meeting

Lord Moinihan, one of the nation's most distinguished surgeons, has called a meeting of the pro-Euthanasia group at the British Medical Association in December "for the purpose of laying the whole issue before the country."

The situation has grown from two recent and remarkable murder cases in which mercy was undoubtedly the motive for the killings.

On October 22 spectators in Old Bailey applauded when a jury acquitted Muriel Welsdon, a 23-year-old stenographer, who was charged with murdering her mother, a victim of incurable paralysis of the brain, by putting poison in peppermint creams.

And earlier in the year, the plight of two elderly sisters charged with the murder of their brother, an imbecile, because they feared no one would care for him after their deaths, had the sympathy of the public. They too were acquitted.

So the unnamed doctor's letter that he had strangled two babies born to be imbeciles and poisoned three adults suffering from incurable diseases added fuel to a controversy that was current.

BALTIMORE JUDGE GIVES DECISION ON UTILITIES MEASURE

so involved that interstate and intrastate control cannot be separated.

2. Congress exceeded its authority to invoke the postal power as a means of enforcing the law.

3. The theory of the law of controlling companies "in the national interest" is bad because the "national interest" is no broader than the constitutional power of congress.

4. Congress flagrantly violated requirements of the fifth amendment because many provisions of the act are "grossly arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious."

5. Although there is a separability clause in the act, the unconstitutional provisions of the law are so interwoven with the valid provisions, that it must be considered as a whole.

"Congress," said Judge Coleman, "by its enactment exceeded its lawful power under the commerce clause of the constitution in that the provisions of the act are, neither by their expressed language nor by any reasonable implication, capable of being restricted to the regulation of public utility holding companies and their subsidiaries or affiliates when engaged in interstate commerce or in transactions that directly affect or burden interstate commerce."

A new question of far-reaching importance raised in the decision is the legality of use of the government's control of the mails to enforce the law.

A dozen witnesses, gathered about the station, were held at bay by a fourth member of the gang, while another gunman forced Charles Shull, engineer, and P. O. Leuschner, fireman, from the engine cab.

Force Witnesses To Help.

Two of the witnesses were forced to help carry the mail bags from the train to a car parked 50 feet from the station.

The hold-up was staged quietly and speedily. The loot stored in the automobile, the gunmen backed away from the crowd, entered the car and speeded west toward Ravenna.

Authorities who took up their trail said they doubled back toward Cleveland.

A new sedan similar to that used in the train robbery was used by three bandits in the $2,000 robbery of the Citizens National bank at Madison Oct. 25 and by five gunmen who held up bank messengers of the Farmers National bank at Salem, Monday, escaping with $26,000.

HUGE STACK IS TOPPLED OVER

been attached to the truck and crane and it was fastened to the top of the stack.

At 11 up went the shattering weakening boom, the rocking blast. For a second the crowd wondered if it would tumble it. Another second and they saw that it would. Another second it was heaving toward the auditorium building, the truck and the crane tugging vigorously at the strain cable.

In an instant the crowd was running, or that part of the crowd which had gathered on the side that the giant stack fell. Those who kept watching saw the top crumble.

In another instant the crushing avalanche of concrete and brick plowed thunderously into the soft ground.

Whirling dust clouds whipped into the air and sent scores more running. Some failed to escape the wave of mortar dust but only their clothes suffered.

Then the air cleared, and the crowd plunged back to the fallen, shattered debris that once was the majectic stack of a mighty furnace.

The show was over.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel, owners of the ground, will clear away the stack debris shortly.

Cameramen from the steel concern and from New Castle worked fast as the chimney tumbled to record its fall. H. H. Gerber, engineer for the Carnegie firm from Farrell was present to direct its wrecking. Others assisted.

All in all, the blasing of the stack was a real show.

The stack has been standing for years since razing of the obsolete Rosena furnace ten or a dozen years ago.

Search For Missing Flier

Singapore, Nov. 9.—(Saturday)—British war planes were ordered to begin at dawn today a thorough search for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, famed Australian aviator missing and feared forced down in the Bay of Bengal on a flight from England to Australia.

With J. Thomas Pethybridge, a fellow Australian, as his flying companion, Sir Charles was last believed seen flying in distress over the vast Bay of Bengal through unusually stormy weather. The pair were in a land plane.

HOFMEISTER-MATHEWS WEDDING ON THURSDAY

Of interest here is news of the marriage of Miss Olive M. Hofmeister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hofmeister, of Ashtabula, O., who were former residents of Edenburg, to Linsie A. Mathews, son of Steven Mathews, of Akron, O. The ceremony was performed on Thursday, at high noon, in the Ashtabula, Church of Christ, Dr. Walter Mansell officiating with the single ring service.

Preceding the ceremony, Amos Luce, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Luce, played a violin recital of nuptial melodies. Then to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. Clarence Jones, of Edenburg, who also played the Mendelssohn Recessional the bridal party approached the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was exquisite in a gown of ivory transparent velvet, fashioned with short train, and her three-quarter length veil of tulle fell gracefully from a band of twisted ivory velvet which encircled her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of gardenias and adiantum. As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Ann Hofmeister was lovely in a floor-length gown of copper-leaf velvet, with accessories of brown, and she carried Talisman roses. The mother of the bride chose a gown of brown velvet, with accessories of brown and gold, and wore a shoulder corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

Ushering were Donald Tong and Merle Swanson. Howard Mathews served his brother as best man.

Following the congratulatory period, a wedding breakfast was served to sixty guests in the church dining room.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Mathews departed on a motor trip to points East. Upon their return, they will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished home at 5119 Reed avenue, Ashtabula, O.

CLEVELAND IN HALL OF FAME

THE bust of Grover Cleveland will be placed in the colonnade on the New York University campus and thus this great American joins the "immortals" in the Hall of Fame.

Few presidents in the history of the nation have been subjected to the constant and virulent personal and political attack endured by Cleveland during his public career.

Today, however, students of history are agreed that Cleveland was in many respects a model president—one with a rigid sense of duty, courage to meet every obligation of his office, regardless of political consequences, and who was a master of the business of government.

Now there are many who recall his conception of public duty and the policies of his administration and who envision him as the ideal man for the present emergency.

There is no certainty, however, that he would rise to the demands of the existing crisis any more than there is reason for assurance that the hand of Washington or Jefferson or Lincoln would lead us swiftly to more ideal social and economic conditions.

Great leaders are produced by the crises and the times in which they live. Who knows that Caesar, Alexander or Napoleon would not have been as bewildered as a rear rank private if dropped down in 1918 into a world at war!

CORN HUSKING

One industry, at least, has not gone mechanical. In the ancient American art of corn husking, the human machine of muscle, bone and brain remains triumphant.

This seasonal industry is now operating at capacity. In the good old American fashion, the workers tend to turn the labor into a social festival or competitive sport. And they seem to prove that the American farmers is still as good a man as his great grandfather was. In a husking bee reported the other day the winner, sloshing through rain and heavy mud as he tore the ears from their standing stocks, husked and tossed into the trailing wagon 34 and one-half bushels in 80 minutes.

And 30,000 people watched him doing it. As many as would be expected at a big-league football game. The heart of this country, many will conclude, is still sound.

"LOST" MONEY

For more than six years treasury officials at Washington have been wondering what became of eighty-five $10,000 bills of the old size. It was the expectation in the summer of 1929, when the paper money was changed in size, that the large notes would be exchanged. Most of them have been swapped, but "old-fashioned" currency still turns up occasionally. There's plenty of room for speculation in the "disappearance" of the $10,000 notes, especially when one recalls what happened to Hauptmann as a result of the order to turn in gold certificates.

Any effort to exchange a $10,000 old bill now would attract much more attention among wise handlers of currency than the effort to get rid of the Lindbergh ransom money. Those who are accustomed to handling large bills wouldn't be much more startled by a machine gun than they would by the sight of such a note. One of the most probable results would be the assignment of treasury sleuths to learn where the bill had been and why it wasn't exchanged. These sleuths would start with the suspicion that there was some unlawful motive for keeping the bill under cover some effort to evade a federal law either against smuggling or for tax collection.

The possibilities of ownership of the old $10,000 notes have provided much entertainment for those who were familiar with them. Many of the experts have concluded that about the best course for the present holders is to let the paper remain in vaults until death, so all that the curious may do is guess.

MADE IN RUSSIA

There has been very little weather and almost no talk about it this season, a state of affairs contrary to the adages as well as to conditions in the recent years. But now, at last, business is picking up, and the prospects for illuminating discussion and perhaps some first-class weather are immense.

The reason is profound and expert confirmation of a belief long held in a hap-hazard sort of way. Always it has been more or less generally understood that much of the weather in the United States was manufactured beyond its borders. Winter storms sweep across our continent from the Pacific to the Atlantic. Hurricanes which blast the Florida coast are visitors from the tropics.

These things we have known, but now the field is broadened. We shall look in the future for our winter storms (in their infancy, at any rate) to Asia. Returning from a weather conference in the land of the Soviets, Willis R. Gregg, weather bureau man, says soon we may have weather reports from far-flung Russian outposts. It is his expert opinion that much American weather is a Siberean product, entering the United States after crossing Alaska and the Canadian Northwest—and probably getting colder all along the way.

Most persons heretofore have given little thought to the possibility that perhaps the winter storm whose blustering winds pile high the drifts is a Siberian importation. But they will not be surprised when told that such may be the case. They can readily in imagination picture the clouds as bearing the label "Made in Siberia." Mr. Gregg says that with Siberian weather news the Amercan forecasts may be improved. But he offers no suggestions for the improvement of Siberian weather. It merely bears out an old observation that everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it.

You can't accept the great man's ideas? Well, nobody can get a bushel into a peck measure.

What's the use? All you get out of success is time to loaf and fish, and the poorest can do that.

Up Pops The Elephant
Ethiopian Victories.
The Lady Of The Legs.
A Royal Wedding.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ON ELECTION DAY, to the amazement of professors and James Farley, who thought him safely buried, the old Republican elephant got his head and shoulders out of the political grave. His friends predict "by 1936 he will be entirely above ground and cavorting around like his old self."

Stocks went up a little, just a little, railroads, apparently convinced that the elephant is a friend, not the donkey, were cheerful and cotton "jumped" 50 cents. That's the political news.

NEW YORK CITY'S Mayor LaGuardia, lost many of his aldermen, but is not disturbed. He likes the expression of the red-heeled French Louis the Fourteenth 'l'etet c'test moi, "I am the state."

It is no exaggeration to say that Mayor LaGuardia is the Fusion Party in New York. He says a man who attends to his business does not need an organization. Tammany doubts that.

ADDIS ABABA announces "important Ethiopian victories," including "the bloody rout of an Italian advance patrol trapped to Makale, ambush and slaughter of four hundred Italians in the Shibeli River, valley defeat of an Italian advance on Gorahai." Furthermore, Ethiopia announces two Italian airplanes shot down by Ethiopian riflemen.

The machine gun ambush alleged to have killed four hundred soldiers was followed by savage hand-to-hand fighting in which, it is announced.

"No prisoners were taken on either side."

MADAMOISELLE MISTINGUETTE, past 60, is among us, told by her friends that she "looks 35," a statement not unusual and said to possess "the most beautiful legs in the world." This lady says to look 35 when past 60 you must yawn as frequently as possible.

"Yawning stretches every muscle, keeps you alive and young and beautiful," says the lady of the legs.

To yawn means to relax which is always good for you, whether it makes you beautiful or not.

THE DUKE of Gloucester, third son of King George and Queen Mary, yesterday married Lady Alice Montague-Douglass-Scott, member of an ancient Scottish family and said to be related in direct line to Mary Queen of Scots.

The world will wish for her a life happier than that of the tall Queen. Ignoring the idea that "royalty must marry royalty" British princes and princesses add fresh new blood to the royal line, a sort of "transfusion" that brings strength.

The royal bride, daughter of the late Duke of Buccleuch is 33, the age at which a girl should marry, as Plato tells you. The husband is 35.

THE FOOLISH OLD HERO!

I'll never forget that little old fellow. . . . That little old man with the white hair and the pink cheeks and the gallant air. And the limp!

I met him after the armistice in a little town in northern France up near the Belgian frontier. . . . He'd been in that town, his home, all during the war in the hands of the Germans. He and his wife—his little, valiant, bent-over wife. His sons had gotten out, gone into the army, but he and his old lady had stayed. Stubbornly and defiantly, they'd stuck it out.

He gave us a cup of bitter coffee and apologized because there was no bread, shrugging his shoulders, smiling at us, knowing we'd understand that a war is still a war even when it's over. . . . He told us many a story. One about an English spinster who had stayed in the village, too, all through the war. Another about a wounded English lad they'd taken in one night and kept for several days, until he had a chance to escape. . . . And when I asked him how he'd gotten that limp he chuckled and said it was a war wound; he'd gotten it trying to shame the Germans.

Seems there was an airplane raid, right in the daytime. And all the soldiers ran to cover, as any sensible man would. . . . But not he. HE wouldn't hide, he wasn't going to be a coward. Those airplanes up there—those "flies on the ceiling"—were French airplanes! They were HIS airplanes. . . . So he walked down the village street waving to them, making vulgar gestures to the crouching soldiers. Putting on an act!

So he got a piece of shrapnel in his foot. And he was proud of it, it was his DECORATION! He'd limp the rest of his life, but he'd limp gladly!

Ridiculous old hero. Foolish old fellow. Sensible folk don't do such things. . . . But neither do sensible folk get such a kick out of life, and neither do they make the hair on my neck stand up when I remember them. . . . How could I ever forget him?

There is one thing most men all want to do and that is going hunting. In fact some hunt for some things all their lives.

Quick popularity may come by acquiring the habit of paying the checks.

We have often wondered why it is that an attempt is only made to regulate one or two things on Sundays. A drive over this city on a Sunday would show some rough stuff for Sunday.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

A Chinese was telephoning a dentist for an appointment to have a tooth extracted.

"Sir, what time you fixee tooth fo' me?"

"Two-thirty all right?" asked the dentist.

"Yes, tooth hurtee all right, but what time you fixee?"

When the burnt-out boys settle down they get credit for reforming, while really the urge has forsaken them.

When a bird saw us yesterday with our coat off he said he could not tell if we were too hot or were putting up a bluff that we were working. Th' ham!

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The parents of a solemn little boy were perturbed at his morbid outlook on life. They were sending him off by train to relatives, and told him to write his name and address on a card and put it into his pocket.

The boy did so, beginning: "In case of accident, this was Johnny Smith."

Already much of the froth has been blown off the frenzy that accompanied the return of "suds."

Mothers are sacred in America. The typical American will do anything for his mother except write her a letter.

The United States government is sending some army officers over to where the war is to find out how they are doing their fighting. No doubt they expect to get some pointers.

Radio needs one of those "gag" rules" they frequently use in congress. It might help curb the comedian who persists in the use of gags that are particularly ancient.

AND PERHAPS EMBARRASSING

"What is your position on the bonus?" a reporter inquired of Senator Soregums.

"Between you and me," whispered the senator, "it's very uncomfortable!"

Out in Illinois when a picket began parading before a newly opened service station with a card on his back reading "Unfair," the owner hired a big colored woman to keep step with the picket, who was a neatly dressed white man, with a card on her broad shoulders which bore a sign reading, "Just Married." O row-dee-dow-dow!

The salmon is very much like the human being. The salmon leaves home at an early age, travels in schools, and is either in the pink or in the red. He is always in the swim, meets a lot of crabs, has to watch out for sharks, and like you and me sometimes gets canned!

We still cannot figure out why production of things that are scarce is still being curtailed. Don't seem reasonable. Some times it takes several days to get the most ordinary things.

We have just heard of a new automobile record last summer. A tourist drove from coast to coast without eating a single hot dog.

Man delights in overcoming obstacles so he climbs mountains. But how mistreated he feels if the obstacle is poverty.

There never has been a politician who did not get his if he lived long enough and there are few if any exceptions.

Bobby, aged five, asked for another piece of pie. "When I was your size," remarked his father, "my mother let me have only one piece at a meal."

Life is one bundle of cancelled checks after another.

WHAT SHAKESPEARE SAID

When workmen strive to do better than well,
They do confound their skill in covetousness;
And oftentimes excusing of a fault
Doth make the fault the worse by the excuse,
As patches set upon a little breach
Discredit more in hiding of the fault
Than did the fault before it was so patch'd.

—King John, Act IV, Scene 2.

From time to time it seems necessary to enlarge the penitentiaries to make room for the crooks who think they are smarter than the other crooks. For instance a Los Angeles judge gave the man who purchased bootleg liquor, with counterfeit dollars, two years on McNeil Island.

Romantic love is a dangerous fever too often fatal.

We almost had to make war the last time. You see, Civil War veterans were getting too old for government jobs.

Cassville Sun—Elias Cook and his son, who live in the old Bradley homestead, declare that the house is haunted. They say strange noises are heard every night. They shut all the doors and the next morning they are all open. Two ghosts, in the form of old women, have appeared suddenly in the night. They promised to bring a pound of butter but they never did it.

"That shouldn't take very long."

"Well, I'd just brought her the potatoes."

Just imagine the surprise of that Chicago couple that had been married sixteen years and had no children and all at once triplets were born to them. They sure were making up for lost time all right.

No doubt in Washington they are beginning to think where the money is to come from if they want to keep spending it like a lot of drunken politicians. They have nothing on the drunken sailors any more.

Maybe the ladies shouldn't work, but imagine a tobacco-chawin' male saying patiently: "Number, please."

Some folks are so startled when they see the opportunity they don't recognize it. That's why you see so many men looking over the rim of their eye glasses.

Good Taste

The debutante should remember that, although she is the "queen bee" at her coming out party, the most important personage of the evening, she is not privileged to slight those whom she considers bores and make an extra fuss over those especially in her favor.

The well-bred "bud" will stand in line next to her mother and greet her guests until she almost wearies of her job; almost, but not quite, for she will realize that she is now a hostess and that one of the secrets of being a charming hostess is giving interested attention to all present, being especially gracious in greeting incoming guests, irrespective of their age or importance.

She should be especially courteous and attentive to her mother's friends, not only for her mother's sake but because, as one of the season's debutantes, she will need the sanction, as well as the invitations of the older generation.

If possible, donors of flowers should be thanked personally as they pass along the receiving line. Of course, the abundance of bouquets and guests may make this impossible. "Thank you" notes should be sent, even to those who have been thanked verbally, except, possibly, members of the family and very intimate friends.

Prosperity To Be Issue.
Based On Business Reports.
Inflation Is Feared.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—There seems little question now that the Roosevelt re-election campaign will be based on prosperity. Party managers seem to be seizing upon the increasingly optimistic reports of large business institutions.

The National City bank, of New York, aids with its November bulletin. This bulletin asserts that not only have trade gains been held but that banknote distribution and output of goods are the best since 1930.

This bulletin remarks:

"In short, the trend toward recovery, extending from the farm first into consumer goods lines, and this year into a group of industries which lagged in the previous 'consumer goods booms', seems established."

But, this bulletin goes on to say, "It is supported in part by artificial measures and by government money, and it is handicapped by maladjustments of which the huge unemployment is the visible evidence."

And the bulletin adds:

"Enterprise is discouraged by the tax burden, present and future, and by uncertainties as to political action still to come. Nevertheless, the handicaps have been outweighed by the natural upward movement, growing out of the desire of everyone to do business, and the natural adaptability of the economic system enables it to make adjustments in one way when they are blocked by another."

INFLATION FEARED

Yet this same bank sees dangers ahead—in cheap money.

Huge excess reserves and other "gluts" of money cannot be held back much longer. When they break the dam and rush in a torrent downstream, inflation may sweep away all real values.

Another danger in the influx of foreign funds, escaping from unsettled Europe. Foreign money has a habit of creating an artificial boom, then running back home, leaving a dangerous void.

AUSTRIA RECOVERS

An interesting theory is put forward by the Alexander Hamilton Institute:

"Economic recovery in Austria may prove to be the forerunner of a general European recovery since the financial crisis began in that country."

Austria now has fewer than 200,000 unemployed—a decline of 50 per cent in two years.

Austria, which was among the first countries to default on its external debt, now is the first country to resume payment.

The only thing said to be standing in the way of a general European recovery is war.

European security markets, however, are acting as if the war danger had passed. But one never can tell.

SOCIALIZATION?

Once upon a time a person was denounced as a "red" if he advocated municipal ownership of transportation systems.

Today, when New York City purchases the combined rapid transit properties of the two great private systems of the metropolis, bonds are strengthened on the stock exchange. Capital looks upon the merger of these systems with the city's own lines as logical and necessary.

Thus does time change views.

And Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia adds another feather to his cap as probably the most outstanding administrator New York ever has had.

DETROIT LABOR

Labor is consolidating on the Detroit auto front.

Three independent auto unions have merged.

The American Federation of Labor union finds a battle on its hand to compete with the big independent.

In the meantime speculation is rife whether the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin will play any part with the independent union. He spoke for the independents last year.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

DICTIONARY PLAGIARISM

Mark Twain was always fond of practical jokes, and a practical joke on a preacher had an especial flavor, according to Owen Wister's article, "In Homage to Mark Twain," in the October number of Harper's magazine.

"In the days before he was a bishop," says Mr. Wister, "The Rev. William Doane went one Sunday to preach in Hartford, and Mark Twain was in the church. After the service Mark Twain lingered to meet the clergyman and say with what interest and pleasure he had heard him, adding that, most strangely, every word of the sermon was in a book he had at home.

The Reverend Mr. Doane was appalled. They spoke of unconscious plagiarism, and looked at the coincidence from various angles. On taking his leave, Mark Twain offered to send the book round to Mr. Doane's hotel, which offer was eagerly accepted.

The parcel arrived, and on being untied out came the dictionary.

Today's Yesterdays—Nov. 8, 1620—The F. F. N. E.—first families of New England—got their first view of it, as the Mayflower, at sea since Sept. 6, sighted bluffs near Cape Cod.

New England, however, wasn't their destination. They started for "Hudson's River in Virginia", and thought that was where they were going. Dutch traders in Holland bribed the captain of the Mayflower, the piratical Thomas Jones, to take them elsewhere!

Nov. 8, 1656—Edmund Halley was born in England. He began making notable astronomical discoveries before he was 19, won everlasting fame as the first person to calculate the orbit of a comet and accurately forecast one a 100 years in advance.

Nov. 8, 1731—The first public library in North America was established at Philadelphia by Benjamin Franklin.

Nov. 8, 1923—Sergt. Adolph Hitler, Austrian house-painter, first broke into the world's headlines by helping Col. Gen. Erich von Ludendorff and others stage a "putsch" in Munich which was designed to make them masters of Bavaria. They were overthrown next day and Hitler was jailed, charged with treason.

Three Years Ago Today—Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected president.

Writing Wrongs—You're wrong if you believe—

That the death rate in the World war was the highest in history.

It wasn't, despite all the new death-dealers that were developed, gas, liquid fire, aerial bombs, etc.

We're repeating this statement, which aroused controversy when first published here last year, because of the current warfare in Africa. The death rate per 1,000 was smaller than in many previous wars. Only about 8 per cent of the wounded failed to survive, and 80 per cent of the wounded were able to return to service. The total number of deaths was, of course, higher, because of the greatest number of men who ever went to war was engaged.

You can be sure that all the casualty statements coming from Africa are greatly exaggerated. Bombing planes, for instance, are far from the effective weapons they are supposed to be. No instrument of warfare is more overrated as a weapon of offense.

Today's Unanswerable Question for our ratiocinative readers is "How Old is Old?" meaning when does a person become old?

FIRST LOOK AT THE BABY

Over the bassinet
Now we stand peeping,
Trying our best
Just to gaze at him sleeping.

Into our arms they say
No one may take him.
Far must we stand away
Lest we should wake him.

Inch back the covers now,
Soft fold and wimple!
Gaze at his father's brow!
Chin with a dimple!

Face of his mother fair!
Like her he may be.
Oh, what a wealth of hair!
Oh, what a baby!

A TIMELY RIME

The clock, methinks, is a disgrace
Although it seldom shirks.
It holds its hands before its face
And then runs down the works.
It beats the seconds, strikes the time
And has a shameful trick
Of showing impudence sublime
While running on on tick.

The members of the Iretta V. Dart class, of the First Christian church, held their regular monthly meeting in the parlor of the church on Thursday evening of this week.

The remaining evening hours were spent in sewing.

Dainty refreshments were served by the committee which consisted of Mrs. E. It was reported during the meeting that Mrs. McClintock was sick and would be unable to attend the meeting.

The class will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening, November 12, for the purpose of sewing. The next regular business meeting will be on Thursday, December 5, at the church. Miss Anna Rae, Mrs. William Cain and Mrs. J. B. Dufford will be in charge of the planning for this meeting.

EXTRA WINDOW

If a room is dark and dreary, a new window will often do wonders for it. A room that looks out on a covered porch frequently needs additional lighting. This may be accomplished by cutting a window in the side wall which is not surrounded by a porch. A child's nursery which had two windows facing a veranda was successfully lightened by this means. White woodwork and a light paper added to the brightening of the room.

To Investigate Bread Prices

Department Of Agriculture To Look Into Conditions In Nine Cities

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Despite Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's prediction that the threatened rise in bread prices will not occur nationally, the Department of Agriculture today started investigations in nine cities where the 10-cent loaf prevails.

These cities were Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, Toledo, Dallas, Hartford and Allentown, Pa.

Wallace believes the high point in the price of bread materials has been reached and he expects these prices to decline shortly.

He said that on October 8 materials used in making bread averaged 3.64 cents per loaf, while on November 3 they had dropped to 3.54 cents per loaf. This reduction was due principally to the drop in the cost of wheat, he said.

Perfect Record For Twenty-Five Years

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa. — Twenty-five years of perfect attendance at Sunday school is the unusual record achieved by Mrs. F. F. Riggall, Bradford.

Recognizing her achievement, members of Mrs. Riggall's class presented her with a Bible and portrait of the Child Christ.

"I have not missed a Sunday in Sunday school for 25 years," Mrs. Riggall said, "and during that time I haven't been late."

Her secret of success?

"I made it a Sunday at a time."

CLEANING ALUMINUM

To clean aluminum pots and pans rub plenty of soap on your cleaning cloth. Put a little water in the pan to be cleaned, about two tablespoons. Sprinkle on your cloth a bit of cleanser and lightly rub around the pan to be cleaned. The secret is to have plenty of suds. That lubricates the cleanser and prevents any scratching.

Maybe He Bears A "Charmed" Life

Death Hovers Around Leechburg Man But He Eludes It

(International News Service)

LEECHBURG, Pa.—A. L. Barclay, 33, Leechburg, firmly believes he is leading some sort of a charmed life.

On several occasions, death has hovered close to him but he has always been fortunate in escaping its clutches. Within a recent period of 10 days, his life was threatened twice.

First, while doing some work on a portion of railroad tracks near here, he did not hear the warning whistle of an approaching train. Suddenly, as the engine was about to bear down on him, he leaped just in time to escape being hit. So close did the train come to him, however that his cap was brushed from his head.

A week later while working on the installation of a new railroad culvert, he was buried to his neck in the collapse of a ditch. But the caving structure that held him a prisoner until fellow workers dug him out, came no farther than his neck.

Says Indo-Vin Put A Stop To Bilious Spells And Sluggish Feeling

MR. ROBERT B. ZEDIKER, of 32 E. Chestnut St., Washington, Pa., says: "You can't imagine what a relief it is to be free from those spells of biliousness and sluggishness, but they have never, returned since I took Indo-Vin OVER A YEAR AGO. My liver was in an awful condition. I felt so sluggish and wornout all the time that there wasn't any strength or energy left in my body, and I would drag around day after day, feeling half-sick and drowsy. I got Indo-Vin, and it has done me more good than everything else PUT TOGETHER. It had a great action on my liver and all of my former sluggishness is gone. In fact, I have more energy now than I have had in YEARS, and I never get drowsy like I used to. And I have enjoyed GOOD HEALTH over a year now, since Indo-Vin brought me relief." Indo-Vin is now being sold at Eckerd's Drug Store here in New Castle. Also by all leading druggists throughout this whole section.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

FINE CLOTHES MAKERS SINCE 1879

INCREASED COSTS DO NOT IMPROVE QUALITY

Price alone is neither a reliable clue to quality or a measure of value. Because price, very often, is a pyramid of profits and expenses which have nothing to do with quality.

Many of the charges which raise the price and reduce the value of clothes are completely avoided by Richman Brothers.

Our own shops make the clothes that our stores sell. Therefore we have no wholesale selling expenses. And ownership of stores eliminates the necessity of duplicated profits.

We have no delivery expenses or credit losses to add to the price of our clothes. And nothing is added at the beginning of the season to provide for sale reductions later on.

That is why it is difficult to distinguish between a Richman Brothers overcoat and those that sell at much higher prices, and why the difference in price is a clear cash saving.

League Thanks Annoys Capital

Washington Does Not Like The Implication Of Growing Aid For League

ARE LIKENED TO AMATEURS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The Washington administration by no means is appreciative of the note of thanks which it recently received from the League of Nations for American cooperation with the league in the latter's effort to compel peace between Italy and Ethiopia.

The administration doesn't want to admit that it is cooperating with the league and here is the league thanking it for having done so!

The league, on its part, does want to give the impression that the United States is a league power in all but name, hoping thus to assimilate it into league counsels in such fashion that anti-league Americans will not realize that the United States is being so assimilated until its assimilation is an accomplished fact.

HAND MAY BE FORCED

I am not so sure that the administration (a considerable percentage of it, anyway) is averse to American entrance into the league, but it prefers not to be advertised to that effect at present, or for some time to come.

It is conscious that plenty of anti-entrance sentiment exists in the land, and is unwilling to be attacked in congress next winter on the ground that it is trying surreptitiously to commit Uncle Sam to so pro-league a policy that he won't be able to renege.

The leaguers, however, are doing their best to force Uncle Samuel's hand.

SHREWD REASONING

The present, according to the reckoning of overseas diplomacy, is the ideal juncture to make Uncle Sam begin fishing in the international pond, instead of continuing to sit on the bank, cutting bait.

Hence the insistence of statesmen like Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of Britain that John Bull can't make up his mind what to do until he knows what Uncle Sam will do next. Hence the league's demand for an advance outline of American policy if the league blockades Italy.

League statesmanship knows full well that its persistent queries and its thanks are embarrassing to Washington, but it doesn't care a dam (which formerly was an East Indian coin of almost microscopic worth; not a cuss-word in any sense). What the leaguers want, in short, is to get Uncle Sam, willy-nilly, into a "hole"—as they have been striving to do ever since the conference at Versailles.

THESE NATIONS? POOH!

The leaguers speak frequently of their dependence upon the cooperation of non-league countries.

They scarcely feel at all dependent up Paraguay, for example.

They don't feel acutely dependent, as to the Mediterranean situation, upon Japan.

They do feel somewhat dependent upon Germany—but upon the Germans mainly as middlemen. The Fatherland doesn't produce enough of what Italy needs, to wage war.

IT'S THE U. S. A.!

The non-league country that really worries the leaguers is the U. S. A.

Washington has banned shipments of war supplies to Italy and Ethiopia—but not the shipment of raw materials which Italy can turn into war supplies.

The leaguers desire to be sure they can shut these off.

They want stronger, more specific assurances than they yet have received from Washington—assurances, in short, that will make the United States a member of the league.

PROFESSIONALS VS. AMATEURS

Their questions and their thanks all are to that end.

The state department tries to dodge as best it can.

It's an amateur outfit, honestly doing its utmost to compete with diplomatic professionals.

HE'S NOW 'MAN KICKED BY DEER'

(International News Service)

SHERIDAN, WYO.—Bly Dickson, veteran forest ranger stationed in the Big Horn reserve, now is known hereabouts as the man who was kicked by a deer.

It happened as Dickson was driving his automobile along a mountain road. A large buck deer darted from among the trees and stopped squarely in front of Dickson's car. The ranger stopped in time to avoid striking him, then got out and attempted to "shoo" the deer from the road. The animal refused to budge and suddenly let fly one of his sharp heels, striking Dickson's hand. Then he whirled and disappeared.

A bad bruise lent credence to Dickson's story.

HE COUGHED UP AT WRONG TIME

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O.—It was more than circumstantial evidence which proved to be the downfall of a suspected burglar here. The suspect was denying indignantly that he stole a diamond ring from the home of Mrs. Katie Golden and asked questioning police detectives to search him. The detectives were searching him when the man's face suddenly flushed. He gulped and then coughed up a diamond ring valued $250.

How to handle a government project: Start with a good scheme and then think up rules and regulations till you choke it to death.

Oberlin President Warns Extreme Student Pacifists

(International News Service)

OBERLIN, O., Nov. 8.—Because he believes there are wars which even a pacifist must support, President Ernest Hatch Wilkins of Oberlin College today cautioned American college students against signing peace pledges in which they refuse to support the government in time of war.

He told the college student assembly here that such a pledge would be "worse than futile." He referred to a student peace mobilization, planned for Armistice Day by several student organizations.

"The pledge proposed is absolutely non-co-operative," said Dr. Wilkins, nationally known as a pacifist. "The attitude of the colleges toward the government in the matter of peace ought to be co-operative, not non-co-operative.

"It seems a dreadful thing to accord support to any type of war," he said. "All war is horrible. There are types of war, which I, as an individual and as a patriot, could not support. But there are other types of war from which, in my deliberate judgment, even the pacifist cannot rightly withhold support.

John B. Calderwood Given Promotion By Radiator Co.

John B. Calderwood, Johnstown, Pa., a former employee at the local plant of the National Radiator Corporation, has been appointed general credit manager, according to an announcement today from the general offices of the corporation, Johnstown.

Mr. Calderwood entered the employ of the former National Radiator Company at the local plant soon after his graduation from the University of Pittsburgh in 1923. Following the consolidation of the National Radiator Company with five other boiler and radiator manufacturing companies in 1927 to form the present corporation, he was transferred to the general offices in Johnstown, where he served in various capacities until 1932, when he was made assistant general credit manager, which position he filled until his recent promotion.

When various members of the household find it necessary to have medical attention and a prescription is required, it is helpful to list in a book for the purpose the number, the doctor and the store where it was purchased. This is helpful in case the label becomes blurred.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. November 7, seven arrests on a charge of drunkenness.

There are few times when a person summons a police car to take him to the city police station, but an instance of this kind occurred Wednesday night. A man whose legs became bad knew he could not travel any farther so he had a pedestrian call the police station. The man faced Mayor Mayne in police court Thursday morning, told the story, that was verified, and he was discharged.

City building proper is undergoing a change and instead of drab walls as existed for some years, employes of the WPA are painting the interior of some of the rooms and a different aspect will confront visitors. Not only is the office of the mayor undergoing a change but paint has been applied to the detectives headquarters and a room alongside it which will be used for the hearing of cases in which boys are concerned.

When members of the present council convene informally for the purpose of discussing appropriations for 1936, probabilities are they will follow the practice of recent years and invite incoming city rulers to be present. The men who are to take office on the first Monday in January will be intrusted with the care of the money which will be appropriated. The salary appropriations for the fire and police departments will probably be increased as a state law makes it mandatory that each fireman and policeman be given one day's rest in seven. If the departments are increased in quota an increase in salary must ensue. Among the other subjects that will come before the solons for discussion and perhaps action will be the proposed police pensions.

Cruiser cars Nos. 1 and 2 of the city police department travelled approximately the same distance during their patrols during the month of October, according to police department figures released today. No. 1 travelled 2,659 miles and No. 2 operated 2,557 miles. Cruiser No. 3, the detectives car, operated 1,557 miles and the Buick, which taxis intoxicated persons to jail, travelled 507 miles. The motorcycle patrolled 831 miles during the month. The motorcycle is used only eight hours each day.

Chief of Police John F. Haven's request to motorists and pedestrians to use more safety should be obeyed. The chief counted the accident reports yesterday and found 98 reports, which is a score more than usually occur each month. Some accidents were caused by persons walking across cartways at places other than an intersection and one serious crash was caused by a hit-and-run motorist. Others were rear-end crashes, as autoists in cars could not stop their machines quick enough to avoid a collision when preceding cars sotpped at red lights.

Germans lead the world. They first used poison gas and regarded treaties as scraps of paper, and now everybody does it.

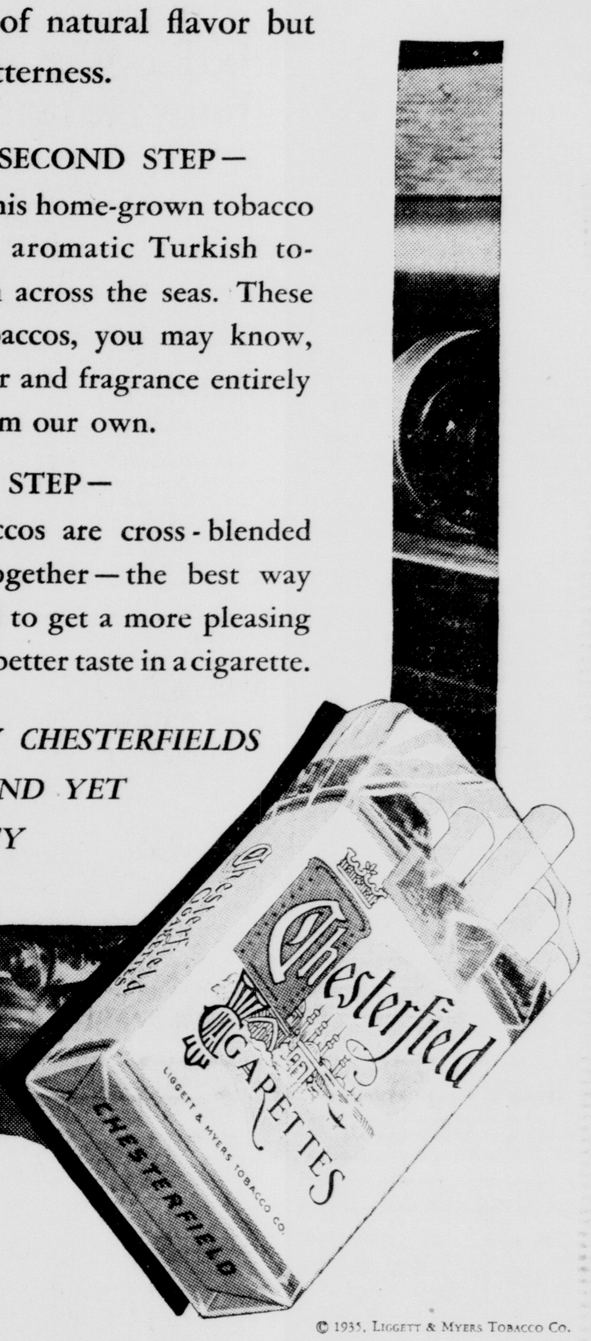
Mild and yet they Satisfy —how do you do that?

Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland—mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

THEN AS A SECOND STEP—
We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

AS A THIRD STEP—
These tobaccos are cross-blended—welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

THAT'S WHY CHESTERFIELDS ARE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY



In a single day people from ten different states visited our Chesterfield factories.

8,200 visitors during the past year saw Chesterfields made.

SHIFTING RELIEF BURDEN BACK TO STATES

Work Program Not Sufficient

Not Enough Work Relief Jobs Supplied To Take Care Of Unemployed

WYOMING ONLY SATISFACTORY STATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Back to the states will go not only the pre-depression burden of caring for the unemployables, but a considerable burden of providing for employables who cannot obtain jobs under the $4,000,000,000 work relief program, a survey of the drive to end relief revealed today.

In only one of the nine states which have received their final direct relief allotments from FERA has the work relief program provided jobs for at least one member of every family on relief. That is in Wyoming, where 5,700 jobs have been provided, with 5,650 families on relief when the job drive was launched.

Job Supply Low

In none of the other states, Alabama, Indiana, Delaware, Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Vermont, has the number of jobs supplied, at least thus far, come near providing jobs for one persons of every relief family.

With increases over the "security wage" scale already granted in many places, the $4,000,000,000 will not stretch far enough, officials admit, to provide employment for 3,500,000 persons for a year, as originally scheduled.

Even with states augmenting federal funds on local projects jobs are not developing as rapidly as WPA administrator Harry L. Hopkins anticipated. The latest recording showed the program still more than 1,900,000 jobs shy, with the deadline for ending relief set back twice, from Nov. 1 to 15, then to Dec. 1.

Relief To End December 1

According to WPA officials, states and local communities are maintaining an average of contributions equal to 20 percent of federal WPA funds.

Thus far WPA has received $981,648,338 in cash for distribution among the states. States have added approximately $200,000,000 to the fund.

Seventeen more states are scheduled to be cut off direct relief, and given only work relief, by Nov. 15, while all federal allotments for direct relief will end by Dec. 1, Hopkins insists. If jobs are not supplied for all of the 3,500,000 employables by that time, and direct relief does end, then it will be up to the states to care for the surplus of unemployed, in addition to the unemployables.

MARTINS FERRY MAYOR COMING

Mayor Charles B. Mayne received today from Mayor E. H. Irwin, Martins Ferry, O., a letter in which he formally thanked the local mayor for an invitation to attend the New Castle-Martins Ferry high school grid game here Saturday. Mayor Irwin said he hoped that as many city and school officials of Martins Ferry as possible would accept the invitation. Speaking for himself, Mayor Irwin said he would be present.

Police To Keep Order Saturday At Football Game

Stadium Crowd Must Be Orderly, Police Chief Haven Announces

Members of the New Castle high school athletic council today requested the city police to assume charge of the grounds at Taggart feild Saturday and to curb the drinking of intoxicants and to stop any carousing that may occur. In response to the request Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Police Chief John F. Haven said the request of the athletic council would be carried out.

"Any person caught drinking intoxicating beverages from a bottle will be arrested and jailed," said Chief Haven today.

He added that drinking and acts of disorder have tended to give the city a bad name.

ARMISTICE IS CELEBRATED

This afternoon the school assembled in the auditorium for a program in celebration of Armistice Day. The interesting program which was presented was arranged by Professor Joseph Replogle, band and orchestra instructor.

The program included the following items: March by the high school band while the school assembled. Introductory remarks were made by the Legion post commander, J. E. Moorehead. The school then participated in the singing of "America", following which the colors were presented for the flag salute under the leadership of Mr. Weide. Rev. Charles W. Johnstone, post chaplain, then led the assemblage in the Lord's prayer.

The song "Over There" was then played by the high school band. The band then rendered one verse of the "Star Spangled Banner" in which the school joined in singing.

In memory of those who died in the World War, "taps" were sounded after which 30 seconds of silent prayer was held. The exit march played by the band was "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

ASK STUDENT SUPPORT

A request is being made to all of the student body to be present at the Pennsylvania railroad station tomorrow morning when the Martins Ferry special arrives. Our band will be there to greet them and they will present a concert on the Diamond in front of the post office after meeting the train. If a sufficient number of students is present the cheer leaders will lead the group in a number of cheers for New Castle. If at all possible, make an endeavor to be there to meet the train.

NO SCHOOL ON MONDAY

To the great delight of all students there will be no school on Monday, November 11. The reason for this dismissal is in order to observe Armistice Day which has been declared a legal holiday.

TO SEE NEW UNIFORMS

Tomorrow afternoon at the New Castle-Martins Ferry football game, New Castle fans who have not been following the team when playing out of town will receive quite a treat when the six efficient cheer leaders make their appearance in their new uniforms.

Reid Shiner, Bud Jenkins, Howard Updegraff, Frank Robison, Leo Justine and Ed. Bollard make up the cheering team. These boys, under the direction of Mr. Mills, their supervisor, go through considerable practice and training that they may be able to lead the student body in encouraging cheers to help the team along.

These boys practice several times each week and some weeks considerable time is spent each day in drilling to get perfect rhythm and skill.

Honor, glory, trips to all games, and a letter upon graduation is the credit that these fellows get for their hard and efficient work during the football season.

APPEARANCE IMPROVED

Most of the classes that were held in the annex of the school building had visitors during the week. But these visitors were on the outside looking in. This strange occurence was caused by men repainting the window sashes.

The touch of white improves the appearance of the building so much that it outweighs the fact that some attention to the lesson was lost in watching the painters. The painting of the bricks on the front part of the school is also an improvement.

BANDS WILL PERFORM

The Senior high school band and the American Legion military band will be joined tomorrow afternoon during the New Castle-Martins Ferry football game. Marching exhibitions will be staged before the game and during the half by these two bands.

Practice was held at the stadium on Wednesday evening so that the two bands could become accustomed to marching together.

They have been drilled under the able supervision of Professor Joseph Replogle, who happens to be the leader of both bands.

COOKING CLASS HAS DINNER

Wednesday evening the 17 girls in the cooking class, under the supervision of Mrs. Healy, served a private class dinner in Room 124. The cost of the food was defrayed by the girls. They planned, prepared and served the entire meal, at a cost of 20 cents apiece.

NAME PLAY COMMITTEES

The following students have been selected to act as chairmen of their respective committees for the school play given November 8 in the Senior high school auditorium:

Patrons and patronesses, Martha Joe Harris; tickets, Al Jones; program, Jack Rupert; reservations, William Cleland and James Gravenstreeter; ushers, Jack Locke; stage and properties, Dale Grove.

HI-Y VISITS CAMP

On Monday, October 4, the Hi-Y did not have a regular meeting. Instead, the club enjoyed a wiener roast at Camp Fred L. Rentz. Transportation facilities were provided by Mr. Brown and various members of the club. As the weather was very nice and nothing happened to mar the occasion, everyone enjoyed himself.

JUNIOR VARSITY TO PLAY

This afternoon the Junior varsity will play Mercer at Mercer. As the Mercer team is much larger and more experienced, this is expected to be a tough game. The Junior team is considerably weakened due to the fact that Ed Skellogg, one of their best backfield men, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with a broken leg.

MODEL ELECTION IN CLASS

On Tuesday the Problems in Democracy classes of the Senior high school, taught by Miss Sarah M. Dinsmore, held an election. Sample ballots were used and each student voted for the same candidates for whom he would have voted at the polls. The voting followed instruction in registration both for native born and naturalized citizens and in the qualifications necessary for a voter in Pennsylvania.

A regular election board counted the ballots after school and the results were posted much as at the polling places. The purpose was to teach the proper marking of a ballot. Therefore, mistakes were pointed out by the instructor on the following day.

DISTRIBUTE ARM BANDS

Booster arm bands are being supplied to all students of the high school for the football game tomorrow. These are to be worn in the morning when the student body greets the special train from Martins Ferry.

They will also be distributed by the ushers at the football game. This announcement was made today by Principal F. L. Orth.

TYPEWRITING ASSEMBLY

Typewriter keys pounded vigorously on Monday morning at the special assembly called for all students that have taken or are taking typewriting.

Demonstrations were given by Barney Stapert, former world's amateur champion typist. These included: Minute tests in memorized sentences; reciting states and capitals of the union while typing them; using a school textbook which was unfamiliar material; and from copy while talking to the audience at the same time. In all of these tests Mr. Stapert averaged around 130 words a minute. Using an Underwood portable, Mr. Stapert typed 231 words in a minute.

Mr. Stapert emphasized finger drills for accuracy and stressed the point of working for perfection rather than speed.

Mr. Stapert has been typing for 17 years, but has only practiced for speed in the last six years. He practices four hours a day, and six months a year, with the result that his official record is 129 net five-stroke words a minute for one hour.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL STARTS

Girls' class basketball teams started practice this week. There are five teams with two coaches for each team under the supervision of Miss McGoun. The coaches chosen are:

Sophomore A: Rita Flynn, Gail Warnock.

Junior B: Theresa Janowski, Kathryn Reiter.

Junior A: Elizabeth Joseph, Dorothy Ward.

Senior B: Captain of team.

The games will start sometime before Christmas. Under the supervision of Miss McGoun, the girls are trained to referee all games and take care of scoring and time.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

Gathering in the parlor of the Y. W. C. A., the Girl Reserves held their weekly meeting on Monday evening, November 4. Devotionals were led by Janet Hartland, after which the girls, under the direction of Phyllis Elder, sang several songs. President Peggy England read several announcements, then the girls proceeded to their interest groups.

NEW SQUAD ANNOUNCED

The following boys are members of the "Stage and Properties Squad":

Captain, Dale Grove; Raymond Buchanan, George Welker and Carmen De Lorenzo.

Mr. Margraf is the faculty supervisor for this squad.

USHERS HOLD MEETING

All the ushers who intend to usher either for the Martins Ferry game Saturday, or for the school play Friday evening, met in the auditorium Wednesday morning to receive special instructions for these events.

Mr. Gardner announced that he intends to have a squad of boys act as traffic guides for the visitors. These boys will be stationed at important intersections between downtown and the stadium.

"PEP" CHAPEL HELD

On Wednesday morning Principal Orth called a "pep" chapel. Mr. Orth acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers.

Harry Toscano, captain of the team, gave a talk, requesting the student body to support the team for the following game. He also asked them to do all in their power to prevent rowdiness.

Alec Samuels, a member of the class of 1921, also gave a talk. He said that the students did not seem to have the school spirit now that they had during his high school years. He asked the students to do all they could to create a spirit of fellowship between the people from Martins Ferry and the citizens of New Castle.

Coach Bridenbaugh gave his views on the chances of winning the game and requested the student body to support the team.

The meeting closed with cheers led by the cheer leaders.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Trevor Richards returned to his classes Monday after an extended absence resulting from an automobile accident.

Evelyn Michael returned home Wednesday from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she had been confined for observation.

Eloise Hickey was slightly injured Tuesday in the gymnasium, when she was accidentally struck with an Indian club. She was able to remain in school.

James Dufford has been able to return to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital. He sustained a fractured collar bone last week.

Classmates of Harvey Jokenin were pleased to hear of his discharge from the hospital, and also to learn that he will probably return to school in the very near future.

Filbert Nocera returned to school this week. He was injured last Friday night in the New Castle-Charleroi football game.

Edward Shellogg, member of the Junior varsity team, is confined in the Jameson Memorial hospital with a broken leg, sustained in scrimmage last week.

JUST LIKE A CHAMPION!

The champion athlete, in bed with a cold, was told that he had a temperature.

"How high is it, doctor," he wanted to know.

"A hundred and one."

"What's the world's record."

THEIRS WAS A LOVE THAT SHOOK THE WORLD

Richard the Lion-Heart and the Princess of Navarre . . . theirs was a love that set the world aflame, for he defied the fury of eleven kings, and matched his strength against the mighty armies of the East to snatch her from a scented harem . . .

She was beautiful . . . and two men wanted her! The answer sang in her heart louder than the fury of a world at war!

Seeks To Show Scholars Really Are Two-Fisted

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—A two-fisted attack on the "movie version" of serious scholars has been launched here by President Dexter M. Keezer of Reed College. He has taken a vow to root out all "horn-rimmed" ideas from this year's crop of freshmen, particularly the fair co-eds.

"The popular conception of a feminine scholar" he told students in general assembly, "seems to be a rather solemn individual, wearing heavy horn-rimmed spectacles, a severely cut suit, ground-gripper shoes and carrying a brief case. I dispute that contention both theoretically and on the ground of personal observation."

In advancing his "be yourself campaign," Dr. Keezer, an ardent disciple of Isaac Walton, has offered a cup to the Reed college student catching the largest trout on a fly.

No Humor In Bible Says Dr. Ben Euwema

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8.—The average lyrical song that rhymes "the moon" and "too soon"; or "—far apart" with "dear heart" is easy to grind out by the dozens, but real poetry is not manufactured so easily, said Dr. Ben Euwema, Westminster college English department head, in chapel, as a part of Bible week.

Speaking on the general subject "The Lyrical Poetry of the Bible", Dr. Euwena said that in writing "verse", the poet decides to be moody or sad or gay but in "real poetry", the poet cannot help being wistful, capricious, or lighthearted.

"There is no humor in the Bible," commented Dr. Euwena, "but there is every other emotion that human heart ever felt—exultation, love of nature, realization of death, and praise of beauty in the one loved."

No mechanical rhyme appears in the Bible, according to the speaker, because the Bible antedates the use of rhyme.

Two other Bible Week speakers remain on the week's program, Dr. C. J. Williamson, professor of Church History, Pittsburgh-Zenia Theological seminary, who will speak on "The Influence of the Bible on History" today, to be followed by professor Harold J. Brennan, who will speak Friday on "William Blake, interpreter of the Bible."

Dr. R. F. Galbreath will conclude the Bible Week program with his address to the student chapel, Sunday evening, November 10.

THE EASY WAY OUT

An enterprising pastor, called to a parish in a small mining town, worked faithfully, added many new members, and finally built a new church. A steam heating plant was put in, and the little meeting house seemed to be complete in every way except it had no bell. Members had given so liberally that the pastor decided to raise enough funds from outsiders to buy a bell.

"ye say ye 'ave a noo choorch?" one hard-handed Scotch miner replied to the pastor's appeal.

"Yes," said the pastor.

"An noo ye want a bell for ut?"

"Yes."

"An' ye say the choorch is 'eated by steam?"

"Yes."

"Mon," said the miner, "wy dunt ye put a whistle on ut?"

Have Roles In School Play

Richard Gregor George Chip

Richard Gregor and George Francis Chip are among the dramatis personae of the senior high school's first play of the season, "Seventeen". Young Gregor will be Johnnie Watson, one of "the gang" who lose their hearts to the "baby-talk lady", who brings heart-throbs and dissension into the neighborhood. Richard says his part serves to complete the cast and furnish background. Richard Gregor himself, however, does not fit into the background of the high school scene, being president of the January Class of '36 and manager of the varsity basketball team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregor.

George Francis Chip has the strictly comedy part of the play. He is the colored servitor of the Baxter family in whose home all the action takes place. As Genesis, Chip is guaranteed to furnish a good deal of hilarity from the first to the final curtain. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chip of Phillips Place.

City Sidewalks May Be Improved

W. P. A. May Make Survey Of Sidewalks To Locate Bad Ones

No matter the part of the city you happen to be in, the chances are you will find the sidewalks in bad shape. Some of them are cracked, others are broken badly and if all the sidewalk that needs replaced were placed end to end, it would make a cracking good strip of walk.

The Works Progress Administration would like to see the walks replaced, and stands ready to replace all that is necessary if the project can be sponsored, according to WPA officials. Engineers have been working on the costs of the proposal and today it was said that if the project could be sponsored, a property owner with a fifty foot lot could get an entirely new sidewalk down for not more than $20 and probably less.

A survey project will probably be put through and the side walk situation throughout the city surveyed. When the survey is completed the results will be made known and it is hoped that a project can be put through. It would not only improve the walks of the city but would give a lot of men work and provide a sale for considerable cement.

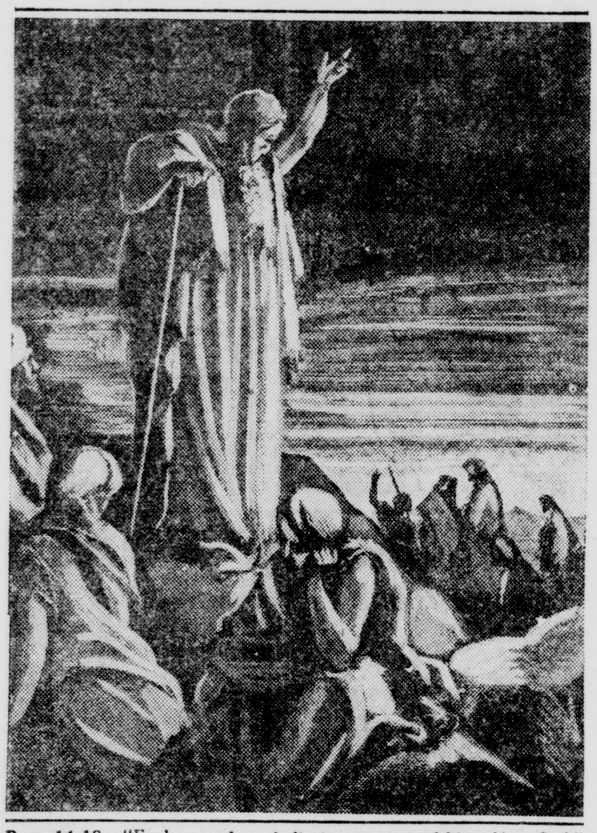
Ezekiel Teaches Personal Responsibility

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



Rom. 14:12—"Each one of us shall give account of himself to God."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 10 is Ezekiel 18:1-32 and 33:1-20, the Golden Text being Romans 14:12, "Each one of us shall give account of himself to God." The following "Bird's-eye view" of the message of Ezekiel is quoted from the Bible study book, "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book" by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, Ohio.)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

"As Isaiah is the statesman prophet of faith and Jeremiah the martyr prophet of love, Ezekiel is the exile prophet of hope. The scene of his entire ministry was in the Babylonian empire, where he was carried with the second group of captives 11 years before the captivity was made complete in the destruction of Jerusalem. The first 24 chapters of Ezekiel recount his call and prophecies during these 11 years, in which he sought in vain by his numerous parables and impersonations to convince his fellow exiles of the coming destruction of Jerusalem and the righteousness of God's judgment in destroying it.

Ezekiel's Pageantry

"The pageantry of his miniature siege of Jerusalem represented in the tile bearing the picture of the doomed city; the shaving of the prophet's hair and beard and the burning and cutting and casting to the winds of the three parts of the hair, symbolizing the fate of the inhabitants of the city; the prophet's enactment of the part of the fleeing exile escaping from the hole in the wall with his few personal effects; and his bereavement at the sudden death of his wife at which he was commanded not to mourn, are merely a few of the incidents of the prophet's ministry which make this book one of the richest in imaginery in the divine library.

Everywhere, as he pronounces the doom and destruction of Jerusalem and pictures the horror of it all, the prophet vindicates the justice of God in the punishment of the people for their gross sins of idolotary and impurity, and repeatedly affirms the purpose of God, that by punishment the suffering people may learn to know him and come to repent and be saved. For no phrase occurs more often in the book than the words, "And ye shall know that I am Jehovah." But all of this ministry of Ezekiel fell upon deaf ears.

The exiles refused to believe that Jerusalem would fall until one of the refugees came with the sad news, "The city is smitten."

In the meantime the prophet pronounced the doom of the seven surrounding nations which had oppressed God's people, repeatedly indicating the purpose of this judgment also in his most familiar phrase, "They shall know that I am Jehovah." (Chapters 25 to 32.)

The Gospel Of Hope

After the news of the destruction of Jerusalem reached the exiles Ezekiel's ministry met with a more favorable reception, and from chapter 33 to the end we have his great gospel of hope in which he prophesies the restoration of God's ancient people to all their former glory. The nation which is as a valley of dry bones shall live again; the ancient temple is seen restored and filled with the glory of the Lord which the prophet, in his earlier visions, had seen depart from it. The altar and its offerings are retored and the prophet sees a great river of the water of life proceeding from the temple to bless the whole world. He closes the book with a picture of the same heavenly city described by St. John in the Revelation and names the city "The-Lord-Is-There."

How wonderful, that this clear vision of gospel hope which is fulfilled only in Jesus Christ, the "Prince" of Ezekiel's prophecy, should have come forth from the darkest hour of Israel's national history, the Babylonian captivity! Truly, "Night brings out stars as sorrow shows us truth. We never see the stars till we can see naught but them. So with truth."

"Better baking at a saving—that counts in this family!"

SAYS MRS. W. W. HICKEY, OF CHICAGO, ILL.

"I'm paying the lowest prices ever for Calumet Baking Powder!"

"CAKES AND COOKIES just disappear in my big family," laughs Mrs. Hickey. "So it's a big help when I can get a full-pound can of my reliable, standby baking powder, Calumet, for only 25c! As long as I bake, Calumet will be in my pantry!"

Grandfather Rommel, who was a baker for 40 years, says, "Calumet takes the guesswork out of the job nowadays."

WHY is Calumet different from other baking powders? Why is such a small amount needed—just a level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes?

It's because Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick action for the mixing bowl—set free by liquid. A slower action for the oven—set free by heat.

Calumet's Double-Action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening. Calumet is a product of General Foods.

"SEEMS TO ME I used to spend my life opening baking powder cans for you!" Mr. Hickey remarks. "This new Calumet Easy-Opening Top is a cinch!"

The Hickey clan plays a game of bagatelle, before a birthday dinner crowned with a Calumet

MOCHA LAYER CAKE (3 eggs)

2¼ cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2¼ teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup butter or other shortening
1¼ cups sugar
3 eggs, unbeaten
⅔ cup milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Spread mocha frosting on cake. (All measurements are level.)

AND LOOK AT THE NEW CALUMET CAN! A simple twist . . . and the Easy-Opening Top lifts off. No delay, no spilling, no broken fingernails! And inside there's a special, convenient spoon-leveller!

New! Big 10¢ Can!

Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history . . . The regular price of the Full-Pound Can is now only 25c! And ask to see the new, big 10c can—a lot of good baking for a dime—with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

Character Chest Board In Session; Plans Work

Character-building work in the New Castle community was discussed and three permanent committees were named when members of the board of directors of the new Character Chest organization gathered for the first time as a board, met at the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, the board's chairman, who presided, named these committees to function:

Community study of character-building program: Dr. C. C. Green, chairman; Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson and Louis B. Round. Publicity: Rev. A. M. Stump, chairman; Ralph Davis, Mrs. Robert Eckles and John A. Butler. Finance: W. F. Moody, chairman; Mrs. John Elliott, W. J. Offutt, J. Clyde Gilfillan and Miss Nancy Bechtol.

The group will soon undertake, through its community study committee, a general survey of a future character-building program for New Castle.

The board chose the first Thursday of each month as its regular meeting day.

Attending the first session yesterday were J. C. Gilfillan, W. F. Moody, John A. Butler, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. John Elliott, L. B. Round, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, Miss Nancy Bechtol, Dr. C. C. Green, Ralph F. Davis, Mrs. Robert Eckles and Dr. Bennett, all board members, and Miss Marguerite White of the Y. W. C. A. and Robert L. Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. Absentee board members were W. J. Offutt, George E. Lyon and the Rev. A. M. Stump.

The Character Chest recently waged a financial campaign for the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and the Boy Scouts.

CHINAMAN SUFFERS SWOLLEN HEAD AS RESULT OF HOLDUP

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8. — Lee Kong today was brushing up on his American grammar, and, incidentally, suffering a very swollen head, because he welcomes all strangers to his laundry, even tall negroes with guns who enter his establishment with a none-too-amiable air and announce: "You're held up!"

Not understanding English very well, Kong nodded agreeably until his visitor began using the blackjack persuasion.

Despite a cut head, Kong picked himself off the floor and politely invited the intruder out the door.

Keystone State Takes Its Place In Realm Of Art

But Most Of Painters Traveled To Foreign Lands To Get Inspiration

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH — Pennsylvania, known throughout the nation as the birthplace of industry, as the unaesthetic melting pot of grinding gears, labyrinths of coal mines, ancient pools of oil and as the home of the industrious rustic, laborer and capitalist, today has taken its place in the realm of art.

The exciting white-hot steel mills, the wooded back hills, the scurrying cities and dreary coal mines have given the world painters who rank with those of international fame. The land of Vulcan has also come the land of Minerva.

Of the 365 pictures on the walls of the Carnegie museum here, where the 1935 international exhibition of painting is shown, 15 of them were painted by true sons of the Keystone state. They are:

Edward W. Redfield, New Hope; Daniel Garber, Lumberville; Franklin C. Watkins, Leopold Seyffert, and George Biddle of Philadelphia; Stephen Etnier, York; Charles Rosen, Westmoreland county, and Roy Hilton, Everett Warner, David Silvette, Samuel Rosenberg, Henry Lee McFee, Alexander J. Kostellow and Johanna K. W. Hailman, all of Pittsburgh.

Artist circles consider this number significant when it is realized there are only 87 artists represented in the exhibition from the United States.

Strange as it seems, however, the artists born and raised in this state did not, in most cases, paint of the scenes and incidents about them. Rather, they traveled to foreign places for inspiration.

Hilton abandoned his study of pale-faced mill workers and turned, for his contribution to the exhibition, to the very poetic portrait of a "young artist".

Parcell, who also used the thundering steel mills as his general themes, succumbed to a landscape of a bleak hill and a deserted barn for his "Farm Land". Warner probably was taken in with the spell of the current wave of Ethiopian panaceas when he produced his clever study of "Black Twins".

Mrs. Hailman remained true to her floweras and ferns with her "An Arrangement of Cannas", while Kostellow, one of the honorable mention winners of last year's international, again used his figures-before-a-window motif.

Rosenberg remained in Pittsburgh for the theme of his life-like "Side-Show". His dancers and nave spectators are real, flesh and blood people who inhabit the Smoky City's "Hill" district. While Etnier abandoned York for Bermuda, Seyffert went to Guatemala, and Biddle graced the canvas with a portrait of Helen Sardeau. Rosen and Gerber pictured impressions of Pennsylvania as they saw it in their childhood from their windows. Rosen typically portrayed "Quarry and Crusher" while Garber, the rustic, upheld the state's traditional sentiments with "Down In Pennsylvania."

Fenn College Head To Be Guest Here

Dr. C. U. Thomas To Discuss Youth Before Y Clubs And Kiwanis

Dr. C. U. Thomas, president of Fenn College, at Cleveland, will speak at a joint rally of all Y. M. C. A. young men's clubs at the Y on Wednesday evening, December 4, it was announced at the Y. M. C. A. today. His subject will pertain to youth.

The Townsmen, formerly the Phalanx fraternity, are sponsoring the college president's visit. His visit here has been arranged by Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas.

The Kiwanis club will hear Dr. Thomas speak at noon that same day.

Palestine Forbids Brief Beach Suits

(International News Service)

TE AVIV, Palestine—At Tel Aviv, the Jewish city that lies beside the Mediterranean, a drive to "clean up" the city beaches has begun.

Oriental beauties may no longer parade up and down in the scantiest of swimming suits. Instead new municipal regulations enforce a bathing costume "effective to prevent the indecent exposure of the person of the bather."

Even children under six come under the new rules.

At the same time "camels, monkeys, bears, swine, cats and poultry" are forbidden to use the beach.

On Court House Hill

Certificates which were signed by New Castle voters at the recent election are now in the hands of the registration bureau at the court house. The certificates are being arranged in alphabetical order. They will then be placed in a loose leaf book and kept for two years.

James W. Gaskell, judge of election in the third ward of Ellwood City, and W. E. Hall, judge in the firs ward, did not get their election returns into the prothonotary's office until about 10 o'clock Thursday, or shortly before the official count began. These are both big wards. In the third ward there were over 1200 voters registered, of whom 704 voted. In first ward there were over 1300 registered and 843 voted. Efforts will be made to have these precincts divided.

Cost of keeping Lawrence county patients is steadily mounting at Dixmont and other state hospitals. During the month of October the records show that County Treasurer William O. Pitts sent $6,039.71 to those institutions. In addition to the state hospitals, there was paid to the New Castle hospital during the month of October $2,176.85, and to the Jameson Memorial hospital $498.

The county commissioners yesterday received a complaint from a Voland citizen who wanted to know why the borough was not permitted to vote on the Sunday picture proposition. He also claimed that he hadn't any opportunity to vote on a new constitution.

The recent election again demonstrated that it is a hard matter to be elected to office on an independent ticket. There were several who tried it, but the vote cast was disappointing. It generally happens after each primary that there are some of the defeated candidates who feel that they might be able to win if there were not so many in the field, and they try it on an independent ticket at the general election. However, the majority of voters seem to feel that a candidate who fails to win a nomination at the primary should wait until the next primary before entering the race again.

That dispute between John E. Fee and James W. Ellison over the ownership of a cow and a heifer is still in the limelight. It will be remembered that Fee recently filed a suit against Ellison in which he claimed that he had loaned Ellison a cow valued at $99 and a heifer, valued at $115, and when he wanted the cow and heifer back, Ellison had sold them.

Now Ellison comes back with an answer filed to Fee's suit in which he says that the value of the cow was $5 instead of $99, and that the heifer was worth only $5, instead of $115. Thus it will be seen that there is a wide discrepancy between Fee's values than those of Ellison. Fee said in his statement of claim that the heifer was blooded stock, a Guernsey, and eligible to be registered. Ellison's version is that the heifer was a mixture of Holstein and Jersey and was not eligible to be registered.

Ellison's contention is that the cow was a Jersey, and in the language of his answer was "scrawney, undernourished and neglected". Her name was "Bessie" and the heifer's name was "Blackie". A cow or heifer by any other name might have given as much milk, but production statistics are not involved in the controversy.

Ellison says there was at no time any agreement between Fee and himself that he was to keep the cow and heifer for the milk and increase, and return them when Fee wanted them back.

On the contrary, Ellison says that he expects to be able to prove that his wife, Beatrice L. Ellison, and Fee had made an agreement under which Fee was to give Mrs. Ellison the cow in exchange for pasturing the heifer, until Fee would want the heifer back. Ellison says Fee knew that the cow was disposed of in the fall of 1934, and that his wife had told Fee to come and get the heifer, but he never came. And finally, it is claimed by Ellison that the cow and the heifer were disposed of for $5 each to a man named Kulkin. Ellison says he never had anything to do with the cow and heifer and that there isn't any grounds for a suit against him.

Walks 15 Miles Across Water

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A 15-mile walk on a rough sea is one man's way of enjoying life. He is Herr Fritz Ernst Neumann, aged 34, who has invented a pair of "water skis".

On these he has succeeded in walking across the Baltic Sea from Peenemunde on the river Oderestuary, Germany, to Thiessow, a small seaside town on the Isle of Rugen.

The journey, a distance of some 15 miles, he completed in four hours, despite a rather rough sea.

When he reached Thiessow, he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers.

Has Ridden 'Bike' Over 100,000 Miles

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—Life is just a grind for Jonathan Sanderson.

Holding no envy for his fellow workers who speed to and from the local mills in automobiles, Sanderson, now past 50, peddles his "bike" as an only means of transportation.

Sanderson has "commuted" by bicycle since he was eight years old, and calculates he has traveled more than 100,000 miles by the push-and-pant method.

Special Series Being Opened At Tifereth Israel

Series Of Services Designed Especially For Jewish Youth

To enable many young Jewish men and women to become acquainted with the numerous traditions and customs of Jewish life and to take part in the Sabbath services, Rabbi Pinchos Katz will inaugurate the first of a series of Sabbath services at Tifereth Israel synagogue this evening which are designed for young as well as old.

The service will consist of readings from the Shabbos prayers and chants both in the Hebrew and in the English, following which a sermon in English will be delivered by the rabbi. He will speak on "Haranism." The tendency today on the part of modern Jewish people to drift away from traditional Judaism calls for a revaluation of the ceremonies and services. The rabbi is inviting the Jewish youth to attend each Friday night service, at 8 o'clock.

England and Australia will be connected by air mail service twice weekly.

INDIAN WOMEN MAY BECOME AVIATORS

(International News Service)

CALCUTTA—Another big step has been taken in the emancipation of Indian women. They are to learn to fly. A committee in Calcutta is financing the training of a selected Bengali girl candidate in aviation. It is anticipated that this plan, if successful, will lead to a great demand by other Bengali girls to learn how to fly.

Chrysler for 1936

Accent on Luxury!

PRICED TO INTEREST PRACTICAL FOLKS . . .

CHRYSLER luxury for 1936 starts with the big, new Chrysler Six. It costs just a little more than the lowest-priced cars but it gives you a whole lot more.

More beauty . . . more style. More speed, more ability, with its 93 horsepower engine. A more comfortable ride, with its 118-inch wheelbase, big tires, new weight distribution and big soft-acting springs.

It's a bigger, finer, safer, steadier car . . . yet surprisingly economical.

De Luxe Eight . . . Fast, Powerful

If you call to mind the type of luxury that used to characterize the $2,000 class, you'll get a good idea of the new Chrysler De Luxe Eight. Astonishingly enough, it lists for about half that price!

In thrilling performance, it bows to nothing on the road. Its pick-up and astonishing top speed have an almost uncanny smoothness made possible by new developments in Floating Power.

It's a great big luxurious car... with wider, chair-high seats and deep, soft upholstery. There are smart, comfortable bodies on 121-inch wheelbase . . . and special custom-type models on a wheelbase of 133 inches.

Beautiful New Airflow Eight

Then, at only a slightly higher price, Chrysler offers the 1936 Airflow Eight.

This magnificent car is alive with new beauty. A new grace in hood design . . . smart new louvers . . . a big trunk that's an integral part of the body . . . entirely re-styled interiors. Here are the glorious Floating Ride and drawing room spaciousness that only Airflow design makes possible. Here is the incomparable safety of a body and frame that are one strong, rigid unit.

Airflow Imperial . . . Chrysler's Finest

The beautiful new 1936 Airflow Imperial is the finest expression of Chrysler engineering. For speed with economy, we believe it has literally no equal. With all of its power and brilliant performance, this car holds the astonishing economy record of 18.1 miles per gallon on a transcontinental run.

No car, however costly, can match its luxurious Floating Ride . . . because the highest advantages of modern weight distribution are possible only in Airflow.

This big car of 130 horsepower and 128-inch wheelbase is priced astonishingly low in the medium-price range.

Automatic Overdrive for all Models

For 1936, Automatic Overdrive is standard on the Airflow Imperial. It is also available at slight additional cost on all the 1936 Chrysler lines. It permits these big luxurious cars to travel at high speeds with a gasoline and oil consumption as low, and often lower, than that of smaller cars.

All 1936 Chryslers have Chrysler's time-tested hydraulic brakes . . . Floating Power . . . strong, rigid safety-steel bodies. All sedans have integral body-form trunks.

Before you buy any new car at any price for 1936, see for yourself how much more you can get for your money in a Chrysler!

Ants May Destroy Napoleon's Retreat

(International News Service)

PARIS — Napoleon Bonaparte's last home on the island of Ste. Helena in the South Atlantic is under siege. A rescue expedition was sent out from France on the vessel Joan of Arc to relieve the stricken building.

The attacking army is composed of white ants. They have gathered in increasing forces with the last few months in the vicinity of the residence, now a French national museum at Longwood, in the center of the British-owned island.

The ants already have started penetrating into the building, and unless action is taken soon, the structure will fall to the enemy. The Joan of Arc is a schooling ship, and is taking a stock of chemical products to save the building. Materials also are being taken for long-needed repairs.

Allege Extortion Plot Vs. Actress

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Arrest by Department of Justice agents of a second suspect in the attempted extortion plot against Thelma Todd, blonde film star, was announced today by R. Whitely, head of the New York district of the FBI.

The suspect is Edward Schiffert, 30, af Astoria. He was seized two days ago after a Long Island newspaper supplied a tip to the federal agents and helped trap him.

"Schiffert has made a number of admissions," Whitely said.

The prisoner was to be arraigned on extortion charges before a United States commissioner this afternoon.

By the way, why are store-bought teeth called "plates?" A mere dinner plate in your mouth couldn't feel that big."

More Cigarettes Being Smoked

Government Economists Point To Fact As Evidence Of Returning Prosperity

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Government economists at the Department of Agriculture laid aside their countless graphs, indicators, and charts today and hailed simple statements that this country is consuming more cigarettes and cigars as a sure sign prosperity has returned.

Declaring that the increased sale of smokes denotes increased presense of money, the economists pointed with pride to the following:

"The climb in cigarette consumption continued with indications that the total number of cigarettes consumed during 1935 will exceed 132,000,000,000 compared with 126,000,000,000 in 1934. In 1932 the total was less than 104,000,000,000."

The department said that consumption of plug, chewing, snuff and other forms of smoking tobacco is increasing in proportion.

TOY CLOSET

closet for toys will prove a great aid in keeping a house neat. Frequently, even though the child may have been trained to pick up his toys from the center of the floor, there is still no place to put them that will give the house a straightened-up look. A closet in the nursery or in a hall will solve the problem. It is excellent training for children if they are taught a place for everything and everything in its place.

New Attack On Guffey Bill Is Given To Court

New Four-Basic Point Attack Is Made On Coal Control Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A four-point attack on the constitutionality of the Guffey coal act was presented today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

William D. Whitney, counsel for James W .Carter, who as president of the Carter Coal Company is seeking an injunction against compliance with the act, outlined the legal onslaught.

Four Basic Points

Whitney argued:

1. Congress has no power to fix prices.
2. Were Congress empowered to fix prices, it could not do so solely to sustain wages.
3. Governmental evidence of tonnage shifts does not in itself empower congress to regulate the bituminous industry, as is attempted in the Guffey Act.
4. Should congress exercise any wage-fixing power, it must itself fix wages, and cannot delegate that power to operators and miners.

On these four basic points, Whitney next week will elaborate when closing arguments are presented before Justice Jesse C. Adkins.

Today's arguments were incidental to the questioning of Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, who testified as a government witness. Whitney sought to strike out Murray's testimony as irrelevant.

SCHOOLING IN COSMETICS

(International News Service)

LEOMINSTER, Mass.—For their interest in beauty, evidenced by their efforts to establish a high school course which teaches students the proper use of cosmetics, six members of the school committee received small boxes of face powder from Dr. William H. Perry, superintendent of schools.

Land Adjustment Project Announced

Sub-Marginal Land Is Announced As Resettlement Project

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—A large slice of sub-marginal land in the northern tier counties of Bradford and Tioga today was announced as the site of the resettlement administration's second land adjustment project in Pennsylvania.

Regional offices here said 15,000 acres of poor farm land in the counties, most of which is under option by the federal government already, will be purchased with $100,000 allotted for the project. The land will be removed from agriculture and turned over to reforestation and scientific forest management.

A. W. Manchester, regional director of land utilization, said the project ought to prove a profitable one for all concerned. It will enable the farmers now ekeing out a living on the land to resettle elsewhere; it will provide a wild life sanctuary and increase forest reserves; and it will provide a savings for taxpayers in the counties, Manchester said. He pointed out that between $8,000 and $9,000 annually is being spent for upkeep of roads, schools and school transportation in the area, a sum he said was far in excess of the tax income.

Hopkins Thinks States Should Carry Burden

Federal Administrator Says "States, Not Communities Should Carry Relief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—States, rather than counties and local communities, should bear the burden of relief which will be passed on to them when FERA ends federal allotments December 1, FERA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins asserted today.

Following announcement that four more states, making a total of 13, had received their last federal allowances, Hopkins admitted that relief costs would have to be faced "for years to come."

"If the burden falls on cities and counties," he said, "the whole burden then falls on real estate. I don't think real estate should bear the whole burden of these costs which we will face for years.

Tax Real Estate

"Taxing of real estate is the only method local communities have for providing funds. States have other methods of taxation."

Hopkins opposed the sales tax, he said, asserting that "it is a tax on poor people."

The FERA has been "trying for weeks and months" to get states to provide funds for relief, he said, and most of them had responded, and are ready to assume the burden when the federal allotments end this month.

New Attack On Guffey Bill Is Given To Court

New Four-Basic Point Attack Is Made On Coal Control Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A four-point attack on the constitutionality of the Guffey coal act was presented today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

William D. Whitney, counsel for James W .Carter, who as president of the Carter Coal Company is seeking an injunction against compliance with the act, outlined the legal onslaught.

Four Basic Points

Whitney argued:

1. Congress has no power to fix prices.
2. Were Congress empowered to fix prices, it could not do so solely to sustain wages.
3. Governmental evidence of tonnage shifts does not in itself empower congress to regulate the bituminous industry, as is attempted in the Guffey Act.
4. Should congress exercise any wage-fixing power, it must itself fix wages, and cannot delegate that power to operators and miners.

On these four basic points, Whitney next week will elaborate when closing arguments are presented before Justice Jesse C. Adkins.

Today's arguments were incidental to the questioning of Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, who testified as a government witness. Whitney sought to strike out Murray's testimony as irrelevant.

SCHOOLING IN COSMETICS

Land Adjustment Project Announced

Sub-Marginal Land Is Announced As Resettlement Project

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—A large slice of sub-marginal land in the northern tier counties of Bradford and Tioga today was announced as the site of the resettlement administration's second land adjustment project in Pennsylvania.

Regional offices here said 15,000 acres of poor farm land in the counties, most of which is under option by the federal government already, will be purchased with $100,000 allotted for the project. The land will be removed from agriculture and turned over to reforestation and scientific forest management.

A. W. Manchester, regional director of land utilization, said the project ought to prove a profitable one for all concerned. It will enable the farmers now ekeing out a living on the land to resettle elsewhere; it will provide a wild life sanctuary and increase forest reserves; and it will provide a savings for taxpayers in the counties, Manchester said. He pointed out that between $8,000 and $9,000 annually is being spent for upkeep of roads, schools and school transportation in the area, a sum he said was far in excess of the tax income.

West Middlesex Residents Recall Gov. Alf. Landon

The present prominence of Governor Alfred Mossman Landon, of Kansas, who is spoken of as a presidential possibility on the Republican ticket, brings to light the fact that he was born in West Middlesex, Pa.

Residents of West Middlesex recall that he was born in the home now occupied by Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Shilling. Forty-seven years ago when Governor Landon was born, it was the home of Rev. and Mrs. Mossman, Rev. Mossman being the pastor of the West Middlesex M. E. church.

Mrs. Mary Baird a resident of West Middlesex was a neighbor of the Mossmans and recalls distinctly the night Governor Landon was born. When he was about eight weeks of age his mother took him back to their Ohio home, his father at that time being an oil field operator.

There is a possibility that Governor Landon will be prevailed upon to visit the scene of his birth sometime in the near future.

POOR TASTE

There is nothing so cluttered in appearance as the room containing 10 or 12 lamps and almost as many small oriental rugs. No matter how handsome they may be, there is nothing home-like about it. Use taste and discretion when choosing lamps and rugs, but do not overdo it.

Rogers Gave Thousands To Charitable Causes

Will Rogers was unused to the ways of show business when he first appeared in New York with his act.

Bob Albright, vaudeville singer, and native Oklahoman, told a story of Roger's effort to get a raise from Arthur Hammerstein, for whom he was appearing.

Rogers had been held over for three successive weeks. His act was going over big.

"What's the matter with my act?" he queried. "Don't they think I'm good enough to go on with the rest of the show?"

Albright, an old trouper, instantly saw that his fellow stageman was new in show business.

"How long you been here?" he asked.

"Four weeks," said Rogers unhappily.

"If they held me over for only one week, they'd have to give me a raise," Albright advised.

That encouraged Rogers. He approached Hammerstein. "The people seem to like my little act," he told the impresario. "Don't you reckon you could pay me a little more money?"

"That's what every actor thinks," Hammerstein told him, "but how much do you think you ought to have?"

"Would $10 a week be too much?" Rogers replied.

A few years ago Rogers received $50,000 for the first seven broadcasts for a nationally advertised product over a nationwide network.

Notwithstanding the fact that at the same time he borrowed $100,000 from a bank in Los Angeles, to make a last payment on his ranch, he gave the $50,000 to charity—half to the Red Cross and half to the Salvation Army.

Many in New Castle would undoubtedly like to give something to the Will Rogers Memorials which are contemplated in the country. This can be done by filling in the coupon below and mailing or bringing to Fred L. Rentz, local chairman for the Commission, at the office of The News Company.

U. S. Accepts Bid To Naval Parley

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The United States has formally accepted its bid to attend the naval conference in London next month, it was learned today, and only Italy's formal acceptance is lacking.

The conference is likely to develop into an extremely important parley, it was learned, because of Britain's naval interests switching from the Far East to the Mediterranean and because of an Italian hope of a Mediterranean pact between herself, Britain and France contemplating a Mediterranean naval ratio.

Colored Girl Is Slashed During Street Argument

Fracas Occurs As Girls Are Enroute To School, Police Say

Mildred Clark, 14, is detained at the city police station and Dorothy Jobe, 13, is suffering from razor blade wounds on her neck, above her left eye and on her left leg, the result of an altercation of alleged long standing, early today, police say. The affray took place in Jefferson street while the girls, both colored, and who live in West Grant street, were enroute to George Washington Junior high school.

According to reports the girls have been having altercations for some time. This morning they met half way up the Jefferson street hill and during the controversy, the Clark girl took a razor blade from her pocketbook and slashed the Jobe girl, police say.

The injured girl was taken to the office of a nearby physician where her wounds were attended to, after which she was taken home. Detective Cyrus Horner brought the Clark girl to detective headquarters for questioning as to the cause of the quarrel.

St. Andrew's Choir Has Dinner Event

Choir Gathers Thursday Night; William Evans Is Honored

Last evening will be remembered for a long time by St. Andrew's church choir members for they were entertained by their leader, William Evans, at one of the best suppers ever held in the church.

At 6:30 p. m. twenty-six guests sat down at a very prettily arranged table and after Rev. S. M. Black asked the grace, all partook of the delicious roast beef dinner, which had been prepared by Mrs. William Evans.

After dinner Tommy Evans took charge as master of ceremonies and called on Chester Hetrick, superintendent of the Sunday school, who gave a very fine talk and surprised the members by the announcement that Archdeacon Foreman, of the Erie Diocese, had presented a splendid gift. All expressed their great appreciation.

The master of ceremonies then called on William Evans who told of the starting of the choir in 1907 and its progress during the 28 years following. There were three members present who have been in the choir all of that time—William Evans, Tommy Evans and Mrs. Ayers. The guests arose and offered prayers for a former choir leader, Harry Ayers, who was a loyal St. Andrew's member.

Rev. Black gave an inspiring talk urging the choir to continue its fine record. All sang, "Oh Come All Ye Faithful," and one of the finest events ever held in the church came to a close. Congratulations and thanks were given to Mr. Evans, who has given his talented services to the choir for so long.

Ordinance System Complete Puzzle

(International News Service)

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 8. — This borough's ordinance system is a complete puzzle to at least one businessman.

He had purchased a new sign for his store and placed it on the sidewalk in front of the building preparatory to having it hung in place. But police told him he would have to get it off the sidewalk immediately, adding there was also an ordinance against that kind of a sign.

Protesting, the storeman had a look at the law books. Unable to find anything listed relative to his kind of sign, he did find ordinances against the type of signs used by businessmen near him, but no one could explain the discrepancies.

"I'm going to put up my own sign," he said, "and maybe, in the meantime somebody will find out what the ordinance is supposed to be."

Decision Made On Gold Bonds

King's Bench In England Makes Important Decision Today

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 8.—In an important decision interpreting the gold clause in British government bonds sold in the United States in 1917, the king's bench court today ruled the government has been released of the obligation of paying the bonds in gold.

The court supported the contention of crown attorneys that the payment is governed by American law and that payments therefore could be made in the lawful currency of the United States in accordance with the gold act of the congress of the United States passed in June, 1933.

The court therefore dismissed the suit brought by an international trustee for the protection of American bondholders.

Two Ballot Boxes Brought Into Court

Election Boards In Two Districts Place Tally Sheets In Wrong Place

Judge R. L. Hildebrand, under whose supervision the official count of the ballots cast at last Tuesday's election is being held, ordered two ballot boxes brought to the courthouse this morning when it was found that the tally sheets were missing from the envelope in which returns are made.

The boxes brought in were from the third precinct of the first ward, and the sixth of the second ward. When they were opened it was found that the election boards had placed the tally sheets in them along with the ballots which had been counted. In making the official count the return judges must check the tally sheets with the return sheets, to see that no error was made in transferring the figures from the tally sheets to the return sheets.

There was no irregularity on the part of the boards, simply a mistake in placing the tally sheets in the wrong place. The return judges are making a count of the city vote first, but no totals have been announced.

Coughers Prefer Lozenge to Spoon

This Medicated Cough Drop Replaces Old - Fashioned Cough Syrups.

No wonder people occasionally bothered by a husky throat prefer the long-continued action of a Vicks Medicated Cought Drop to the short, quick gulp of an old-fashioned cough syrup. For this Cough Drop is actually medicated with time-tested, throat-soothing ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.

When a convenient Vicks Cough Drop dissolves naturally in the mouth, it applies direct medication to irritated membranes of the throat for from 12 to 15 minutes—at a cost of less than half a cent.

Less expensive, more convenient, and longer-lasting in effect, no wonder Vicks Medicated Cough Drop has become the modern successor to old-fashioned cough syrups.

College Professors Would Be Happy In Other Vocations

Members Of Westminster College Faculty Reveal Earlier Ambitions

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8.—Women are privileged to change their minds, but not college professors, according to a recent Westminster college faculty questionaire, which indicates that like most men, college professors would rather have been something else—other than college professors.

The business and professional world is full of men who would rather have been tap-dancers or orchestra leaders; and so is the college world full of men who would rather have been baseball pitchers or plastic surgeons.

Professor of history Leon Marshall would choose professional baseball, pitching in particular; department history head Elmer B. Russell would have preferred law, with fishing as chief time-killer. German and Latin professor, Dr. Taylor, would have studied surgery instead of dead languages. Economnics instructor R. J. Sweson also bent towards medicine, with an especial interest in the study of nervous and mental diseases.

Miss Stewart, department head of romance languages, would have chosen singing as a career. Department of Physics professor, John C. Moorhead, wanted to be an electrical engineer as did Dr. James A. Swindler, registrar and physics department head.

Numbered among other frustrated ambitions were English department Miss McConagha, interested in library work; Miss Sowash, French instructor, who aspired to be secretary for some American firm in the Orient; Edward Miller, business administration, interested in advertising; and Albert Tener, public speaking instructor, ambitious to study law.

On the other side of the fence are plenty of doctors, lawyers, and bankers who would like to be college professors of English, physics, and Latin.

DIVORCED COUPLE TO "TRY, TRY AGAIN"

(International News Service)

READING, Nov. 8.—"It's not a chance," declared Lloyd Dickinson, with a broad grin, as he procured a marriage license to marry the woman he had divorced some years ago, "this time it is the real thing, isn't it, honey?"

It all came about when she had taken her eight-year-old son into a barber shop and found the man with the scissors was her former husband.

They talked it over between snips, and decided to try it again.

Ethiopians Take Hostages In Their Retreat At Makale

(International News Service)

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY AT MAKALE, Nov. 8.—Ethiopian warriors, retreating from Makale, took with them as hostages all the relatives of Ras Gugsa, Ethiopian chieftain who deserted to the Italians, the invaders were told as they entered the city today.

The Italians heard amazing stories of the Ethiopian evacuation of Makale. They heard of heart-rending scenes as the Ethiopian warriors entered the city in the dead of the night, dragged the relatives of Gugsa from their beds, bound their hands behind them and marched them through the streets threatening them with knives.

"Blonde Tigress" Is Given Sentence

Cleveland Judge Sentences Helen Harmon To One To 20 Years

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 8.—Spared the fate of her two male companions in crime—death in the electric chair—19-year-old Helen Harmon, Chicago, known to police as the "blond tigress," today faced a sentence of one to 20 years in the women's reformatory.

Rejecting the state's plea for the death penalty, a jury of six women and six men found Miss Harmon guilty of manslaughter in the hold-up-murder of Albert Wesosky, young Cleveland butcher, last April 11.

Her companions, Donald (Dan) Eberle, 31, and John Pleyer, 30, both of Chicago, convicted of first degree murder in the same crime, have been sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Expect Hurricane Will Strike West Coast Of Florida

Storm Not Expected To Be Intense One However

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—Apparently diminished to only slight intensity, the tropical hurricane which swept Florida last Monday today was re-approaching the stage from the west.

At 8:30 A.M. C.S.T., the storm was centered about 100 miles west of Tampa and was slowly moving eastward, the weather bureau here announced. Storm warnings have been lowered from Apalachicola, Fla., to Panaman City, Fla., but remained displayed from Apalachicola to Tampa.

"It seems improbable," the advisory said, "that the storm will be attended by more than moderate winds when it reaches the coastline, but all small crafts should exercise caution for another 24 hours on the Florida gulf coast."

Warnings Hauled Down

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 8.—Storm warnings displayed for two days were hauled down today when a bulletin from the U. S. Weather Bureau said the tropical disturbance now raging in northern gulf waters had diminished in intensity and was accompanied by winds of only gale force.

The bulletin said the only aftermath of the storm would be high winds. Storm warnings flown along the coast to Panama City, 90 miles distance, were also ordered down today.

Meeting Of Christian Endeavor Officers At Central Presbyterian

The regular executive meeting of Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union was held in the Central Presbyterian church Thursday evening. The devotionals were in charge of Kenneth Gaston. Lawrence county has contributed $64.50 to the state work during the past year.

The resignation of Mary Archetta was accepted as Temperance superintendent. Miss Louise Davies was appointed as leadership superintendent, for Lawrence county.

Following the regular business session was a panel discussion of "Better Society Meeting". Miss Geraldine Fry, West Dist., leadership superintendent, was in charge.

Miss Theodore Pollock spoke on "Technicalities of Christian Endeavor". Miss June Campbell spoke on developing the worship part of the meeting. Miss Louise Davies spoke on different types of meetings, and Kenneth Gaston spoke on "Publicity of Your Meeting".

Societies represented at the meeting were First Presbyterian, First Christian, Central, Mahoningtown, Plaingrove, Reformed, First Congregational, and Rich Hill.

Bible Address By Dr. C. J. Williamson

Westminster Students Hear Able Discourse By Seminary Instructor

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8.—"Nursed at the breast of the Bible, Scotland, with the worst constitution in the world still has the world's best government," Dr. C. J. Williamson, professor of Church History, Pittsburgh-Zenia Theological seminary, told the Westminster college body in a chapel address to commemorated the 400th anniversary of the Bible printing.

The early ancestors of the English race, Britons, were savage barbarians, war-painted cannibals, until Christianity made its way into England, Dr. Williamson said. Once when Queen Victoria was asked what motives prompted sailors to stand at attention while women and children were saved from a sinking British ship, answered, "The English Bible is responsible for such heroism."

The Bible helped mould 15th century Germany into a single-speaking country; it was responsible for John Wesley's founding of the Methodist church, which worked among the poor and destitute classes of London; it aided in stopping infanticide in India and in civilizing the Hottentots in darkest Africa, were the speaker's conclusions.

Dr. Williamson told of a French woman who once asked Lord Chesterfield, dean of good manners in 18th century England, why the English didn't quit using the Bible in the opening of each session of the House of Lords, to which Chesterfield replied, "Madam, we are looking for a better book, but haven't found it yet."

Dr. Williamson concluded by comparing the Bible and the world with a piece of machinery and the book of instructions how to run it, adding that without a book of instructions an intricate machine is worthless, and so the world without the Bible.

CLEANER CLOTHES

Before taking down the clothesline rub a damp cloth along it, removing any dust that has gathered while it has been hanging. This will prevent any of that dirt getting on your clothes the next time it is used, besides being more pleasant to handle.

How Much Butter? Just 1,000 Pounds!

One thousand pounds of fresh creamery buter in a single tub . . . that's something!

And that, too, accounts for the crowd which gathered around the window of the Washington and Mill store of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company today.

Thursday afternoon, October 31, the primary room held a Hallowe'en party in the school house. Almost all of the children were in costume and the first thing was the guessing contest. Jane Brown and Jimmie Palmer were hardest to guess. A number of games and contests were held in the play room which was decorated with corn shocks, pumpkins and crepe paper. After the games, the children returned to their class room for lunch. A parade for the benefit of the other pupils of the school brought to a close a happy afternoon.

The boys and girls of the upper grades enjoyed a party the same day and part of their entertainment intermingled. An interesting program of games, arranged by the boys and girls was enjoyed by all. Another committee of boys and girls cleverly prepared and served a delicious lunch. During the lunch period some talented members of the party told wierd ghost stories which delighted all. Marian Hetrick captured the prize for the funniest costume among the girls. Bobby Miller, a small guest, won first prize for the most comical costume among the boys and Thomas Peters won second prize. The judges were High School students.

Man Who Fired Historian Train Poverty Stricken

Sim Webb Stoked For Casey Jones On Famous Ride

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Odd jobs here and there, a few pennies today and maybe a dollar tomorrow, but in all a meagre existence is the luck of Sim Webb, negro, who was the fireman with Casey Jones on that epochal ride 35 years ago.

The 61-year-old negro who fired several tons of coal into the engine fire-box before the crash that cost Casey Jone's life and inspired a famous folk song lives in humble surroundings here.

"No, sah! Ise won't forget that night if I live to be a thousand years old," he says. Likely there's a tear on his cheeks as he recalls:

"It was raining a cold, slow drizzle on the night of April 30 when I gets my orders to ride with Mister Casey on No. 382. We was pulling the Chicago, Memphis and New Orleans Express, better known as "The Cannon Ball."

"And what a Cannon Ball she was that night"

Casey's efforts to make up an hour and 15 minutes lost when the Cannon Ball came into Memphis late from the North brought a quaver to Webb's voice as he said:

"Mr. Casey was the nicest white man I ever worked for. We pulls out of the Poplar street station at 1:10 a. m. and we was due to leave at 11:55 p. m. We ran down the river front tracks, over the Beale street trestle and through the "S" curve into the old Calhoun street depot to finish our station work.

"That made it about 1:30 a. m. when the 'Cannon Ball' pulled out," Slim added.

"And how that old 382 ate coal dat night," Slim added. "I shoveled until I thought sho' my arm would break. That engine sho' pulled fast. She pulled into Goodman, Miss., in nothing flat. But we had to sidetrack, cause No. 2 had the main line—and she passed us making about 40 miles an hour. And when she passed we pulled out the switch and onto the main line.

"We rolls into a long, sharp curve at Vaughan, making about 80 miles an hour. Befo' I knows what's happenin' I sees the markers on the caboose of another train. I glances around at Mister Casey and yells:

"Look out! We gonna hit something.'"

Sim sobbed: "Dat was de last time I seen Mr. Casey alive."

The negro said he didn't know whether or not Casey heard him, or whether the engineer swung far enough into the curve for him to see the light on the caboose. He said when he fell out of the fireman's gangway he felt the air go into the emergency.

Sim barely missed a culvert. Fortunately he landed in the grass and was only slightly injured. No. 382 crashed into he caboose, split it wide open, ran through two box cars ahead and a car loaded with lumber ahead of that. Casey died instantly. No one else was injured.

Mrs. Casey is still alive and living in Kentucky. Contrary to the song's suggestion, she didn't marry another man "on the Salt Lake Line."

'CONFESSED' MURDER TO GET HOLIDAY

(International News Service)

NICE—In order to get a free trip from Switzerland to the Riviera, Robert Eskenazi, a young Turk, accused himself of committing a murder.

Two years ago a Nice "underworld" chief was shot dead outside a safe in the early hours of the morning. The murderer was never traced. Eskenazi told the police at Interlaken that he was the murderer. He gave such full particulars of the crime that he was believed guilty.

But when brought to Nice and questioned, he denied all blame and police enquirers showed he was innocent.

He was about to be set free when the police discovered he was wanted for robberies on the Riviera. So Eskenazi is spending his precious Riviera holiday in prison.

NEW TRAFFIC LANE

A Negro was being examined for a driver's license.

"And what is the white line in the middle of the road for?"

"Fo' bicycles," was the reply.

Dan Cupid Good To These Couples

Walk Down Life's Highway Hand In Hand For 60 Years

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—Dan Cupid must have personally supervised the bell ringing at the weddings of two Pittsburgh district couples in 1875.

One of the couples, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Warner, of Pitcairn, are preparing to celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Warner is 82 while his wife is 76. She was "sweet 16" when they were married.

Although a blacksmith all his life, Warner does most of his work on an automobile now. However, he still maintains "horses are the thing."

The other couple, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mast, both 83, have just celebrated their sixtieth anniversary.

Th Masts have five married children, 10, grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

'I had to work hard but I kind of enjoyed it," Mast recalls.

COW TESTS

Hunters Warned Against Careless Handling Of Guns

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—A warning was issued today by the State Department of Health against accidental deaths during the hunting season. Carelessness in the woods is the largest factor in fatal gun shot wounds in Pennsylvania, according to the department.

"During 1934 nearly 140 persons lost their lives through the careless handling of fire arms," reported Dr. Paul A. Rothfuss, deputy secretary of health. "In addition, there were more than 500 persons who received serious and minor injuries from this source. While many of these did not occur during the hunting season, by far the larger number apparently were the direct outcome of the careless handling and firing of guns while in the quest of game."

"Every year during the hunting season there is the unfortunate and inevitable casualty list of hunters. In spite of repeated warnings, many men in the woods fail to carry their guns properly when climbing over obstacles. Others, under the excitement of the moment shoot at objects which they assume to be big game and wound fellow sportsmen. Still others, in cleaning rifles before starting on the excursion or while in camp, forget to remove cartridges and therefore cause serious accidents.

"There is no desire to minimize the pleasure derived from hunting in the Pennsylvania woods. However, it is essential that those doing so exercise reasonable caution in the handling and discharge of firearms.

"If one is wounded in the leg or arm a tourniquet should be applied above the wound in order that the flow of blood pumped from the heart may be temporarily stopped until medical aid can be obtained. Such tourniquets should occasionally be released until the flow of blood is re-established, then immediately tightened again until medical service is available.

"A deeper sense of the hunter's obligation while in the woods toward others and a keener appreciation of the maiming and killing power of the gun in their own hands would materially reduce the casualties during the hunting season."

FOREST DISPLAY GOES TO MUSEUM

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8. — A display of forest resources will be placed in the Pennsylvania State Museum by the Department of Forests and Waters, according to an announcement by Secretary Thomas C. Buchanan.

On invitation of Dr. C. F. Hoban, superintendent of the State Museum, the Research Division of the Department has begun the collection of specimens of all commercially important native Pennsylvania woods.

MILK INSPECTORS MEET

HARRISBURG.—The Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors will hold its annual meeting on January 21 and 22, 1936, in Harrisburg, in connection with the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Exposition. Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, Secretary of Health, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet.

OPINION ON STREET SIGNS

Editor News,
Dear Sir:

Application of the old adage "If any one throws salt at you and you haven't any sores it won't smart," seems fitting at this time and evidently my letter of Nov. 2nd calling attention to the new street signs, seems to have reached a sore spot, for I was roundly scored in a letter written by David Gaibis appearing in The News Nov. 4. All these street signs show rust is forming, and undermining the paint, the proof is plainly seen, and cannot be denied, all the high class lettering and workmanship displayed on the surface of the signs is a complete financial loss.

Until I read Mr. Gaibis letter I did not know who had charge of the work, I was governed in my remarks entirely by the condition of the signs, which show positively that the preparation of the metal surface and the materials used in the first coat of paint (which is the most important in any job of painting) was not properly done. It matters not how much good material, or how finely the surface is finished, when the improperly applied first coat gives way, all the fine expensive work on the surface comes off with it. The chemist's opinion about the paint used in the finishing coats means nothing if improper methods and materials are used in the application of the first soat. And right there is the cause of 90% of all bad paint work.

And I again repeat my former assertions, that any man in charge of the work of painting who attempts to paint metal without the use of the proper, specific, chemically adapted materials and approved methods is not much concerned about who pays the bill, and his work sooner or later will prove that I am right. We grant that Mr. Gaibis's work shows artistic ability but the question under discussion is the durability of street signs.

Yours respectfully
EDWARD SHIELDS,
714 Blaine St.
City.

STOP THAT COUGH with KEMP'S BALSAM

COUNTED MORE VOTES THAN WERE CAST

YOUNGSTOWN. Subpenas Thursday were served on the board of elections for five members of a precinct voting staff whose tally books showed that only 260 persons had cast ballots, yet who turned in a total count of 304 votes in the mayoralty race.

The errors occurred in the face of a new system whereby the board of elections swore in night crews to do the counting. It had been hoped to eliminate all election squabbles under the new plan.

Mass Honeymoons New Chinese Idea

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI — China, the land where newly married couples never indulge in the western delight, the honeymoon, is going a step farther than America or Europe. The China Travel Service thought up the idea of a mass honeymoon.

This innovation follows the recently established governmental trick of the mass weddings, conducted by an official and completely provided in every detail at a nominal, fixed charge. The purpose was to do away with the old-fashioned elaborate and expensive wedding celebration.

After the next mass marriage in Shanghai when Mayor Wu Tenchen has given his blessing to 50 or more brides and grooms, the China Travel Service will take them in hand for a conducted honeymoon tour to the historic and scenic cities of Soochow and Hangchow. There will be no charge for the lucky couples of this first mass honeymoon.

Father Is Given The 'Baby Shower'

(International News Service)

TACOMA, Wash.—His layette complete from safety pins to talc, John J. Sweeney, expectant father, is calmly awaiting the approach of the stork.

Sweeney was the victim of a "delightful surprise" in the armory here when 50 of his world war buddies, members of Tacoma post No. 2359, Veterans of Foreign Wars, "showered" him with a double armful of "sweet and darling things".

While the armory echoed to the "Ohs" and "isn't that too dear" as the tissued and ribboned packages spilled their contents into Sweeney's "lap", a neat package of smelling salts tagged "for Sweeney at the zero hour" was set aside for the expectant father's individual use.

Guy Melton, captain of the post, was hopeful the tradition-shattering episode would become a nation-wide custom and a source of joy to long neglected fathers-to-be.

When enraged farmers break the law and the government isn't afraid to arrest them, the depression is over.

BETTY WAS FRAIL AND NERVOUS —READ WHAT HAPPENED THEN

...And Now Read What These Mothers Write:—

"My little girl, age seven, has always been rather nervous, underweight and a light sleeper. A week ago she began drinking Ovaltine, and it is hard to believe she is the same child now. That tired, languorous feeling is gone, her appetite has improved 100%, and it is a pleasure not to have to scold her about eating. Also she sleeps splendidly. Ovaltine has certainly taken a great worry off my mind"—writes Mrs. Herbert Lee, 4437 Magnolia Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Another delighted mother, Mrs. J. H. Bowman, 4919 Natural Bridge, St. Louis, Mo., writes:—"Alice Ruth, who is 11, has been nervous all her life. If we took her to a movie or any place exciting, she would not sleep at night. Then I decided to try Ovaltine. Now she sleeps fine and is rapidly gaining weight."

These letters cover, of course, only 2 individual cases. Naturally, we do not claim or guarantee that similar results will occur in every case where Ovaltine is used. But this letter is so typical of thousands we have received, that we believe a thorough trial of Ovaltine is justified by every intelligent mother in similar cases of nervousness, poor appetite and underweight.

Ovaltine is a delicious pure food concentrate first created in Switzerland (now made in the U. S. A.)—and approved by thousands of physicians. Already it has gained world-wide recognition as an important food for child-building—and is particularly noted for the remarkable increases in appetite, weight and nerve poise which so frequently occur when it is added to the daily diet... Ovaltine is also highly recommended as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged—and for sleeplessness, when taken as a hot drink at bedtime.

For the sake of your child, try Ovaltine. You simply give it mixed with milk—either hot or cold—and children love its delicious taste. At all drug and grocery stores.

Football Star Confesses Use Of Phoney Name

U. Of California At Los Angeles Rocked By Startling Discovery

GREATEST HOAX IN GRID HISTORY

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8—"The game is over, the whistle has blown, the other side finally has won."

And with those words Clois Francis "Shorty" Key, alias R. F. "Ted" Key, today had admitted being the principal in one of the biggest hoaxes in gridiron history.

Since the fullback was withdrawn from the University of California at Los Angeles lineup last Saturday, a few minutes before they played California, Key steadfastly denied he was anyone other than Ted Key.

But late yesterday, after nearly a week of intensive investigation conducted on a half dozen fronts, Key admitted he was not Ted Key but Clois Key.

Makes Confession

Breaking his phantom silence, Key declared he assumed the name of R. F. Key so he could continue his football activities and at the same time obtain a university education.

"I obtained the credentials of a Bob Key whom I met in Mexico," Key explained. "He graduated from Panhandle High school in Texas and his initials were R. F. He was not a football player and he did not intend to go to college, so with his permission I have been using his initials and credentials.

"My brother, R. F. 'Ted' Key knows nothing about this. I haven't seen him since 1932.

"Before God the paramount reason I went to Ucla under the alias was to get a degree so I could coach.

Just what will happen to Key as far as the university is concerned remained undetermined today.

Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, provost and vice principal of the University of California, said he would confer late today with Ucla officials to determine if Key would be permitted to continue his studies. He will not, however, be allowed to resume his university football career, he said.

Army Hopes To Win From Pitt

Seeks To Even Up For Defeats Back In 1931 And 1932, On Saturday

HUGE CROWD TO ATTEND CONTEST

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8.—After losing two in a row to Pitt back in 1931 and 1932, the Army football team appears to have what it takes to beat Pitt at the Pitt Stadium Saturday, when the two elevens meet in an eastern grid headliner. According to those who have watched both teams in action Pittsburghers may have to get a lot of satisfaction out of watching those 1,600 cadets parade around to make up for the trimming in store for the Panthers.

While the Army has used one starting combination all year long, with this eleven improving with each game—the loss to Mississippi State not to the contrary—Pitt has one shifted lineup after another into action, with a resulting loss of teamwork usually expected of a Sutherland coached team this time of the year.

From tackle to tackle Pitt has what it will take to keep the explosive Mr. Monk Meyer in check, although it will be a tough assignment. But when Meyer begins to take jaunts around the Pitt ends, throw passes at its secondary, and quick-kick at the safety men, Army touchdowns are going to seem imminent.

Sutherland is making changes in his lineup this week attempting to develop an attack that can cope successfully with the big Army line and one that can get away around the West Point ends, at one of which Captain Bill Shuler, outstanding All-American candidate holds forth.

He has Bobby McClure of Greenville, taking his turn at quarterback along with Greene and Michelosen. McClure is a consistent powerhouse punter and a hard blocker. To insure better punting, even if McClure does not make the grade, Sutherland is replacing Leon Shedlosky with Johnny Wood, a brilliant kicker.

What Sutherland will do about his ends, he himself does not know, and will not know until game time. Souchak was hurt against Fordham and the chances are that Vin Sites and Paul Shaw will again get the call, although Walter Miller, a husky sophomore, played good ball in the last game, and for an offensive threat, the pass-receiving Heinie Adams, may get his chance.

AUTOS COLLIDE ON WILMINGTON ROAD

Automobile of Alice B. Gordon, 819 Etna street, was damaged badly when it went off the New Wilmington highway, five miles from New Castle at 6 p. m. yesterday after it and the car driven by R. W. Watkins, Darby, Pa., sideswiped.

SISTERS ARE GOING SOUTH—ON FOOT

(International News Service)

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—The Misses Addie and Beatrice Worth, 58 and 48 respectively, neighbors here of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., are also going to Florida for the winter. But there will be nothing conventional about the trip—no mere boarding a train or motor car for the journey.

The sisters are going to walk and pull behind them a rubber-tired express cart containing their six cats, a guitar and a camera. They won't accept rides from motorists and they plan to earn their board and room enroute.

Miss Addie will lecture on social service, while her sister will furnish the musical part of each program. Miss Beatrice is author of a number of unpublished ballads including "Grandpa's Lantern Hanging in the Woodshed."

Showboat On River To Sell Merchants

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—A merchants' "Showboat," which has not been seen on the Mississippi for 20 years, is attempting a comeback. Fitted up by a local wholesale company, the excursion steamer Capitol is now enroute downstream with displays of clothing, luggage and toys.

More than 7,000 mercants were invited to visit the boat. Stops were scheduled for Cape Girardeau, Cairo, Caruthersville, Memphis, Helena, Greenville, Vicksburg, Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

Three weeks will be required for the 1,200-mile trip, as the "Showboat" will tie up for three or four days at the large cities. All runs will be made at night in order that the days may be devoted to display of the merchandise.

New Castle And Martins Ferry Play Saturday

Taggart Stadium Will Be Mecca Of Big Football Crowd

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Faces Severest Test Of Season—Kickoff At 2:30 p. m. Martins Ferry Team Outweighs Locals.

FROM the banks of the beautiful Ohio river Saturday will come a powerful Martins Ferry high school football team of "Purple Riders" to combat the "Red Hurricanes" of New Castle high school. Taggart stadium will be the mecca of countless hundreds of football fans from far and near who will come to watch the intersectional battle of the schoolboy teams.

The kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. and by game time, with a break from the weatherman the stands at Taggart stadium should be a seething mass of humanity. "New Castle Day" plans are complete. There will be something doing every minute. Two magnificent bands, New Castle and Martins Ferry, will provide the music. Snappy tunes. The day and game promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the past several years. In another 24 hours a noisy happy crowd of football fans from all over Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio will settle down upon New Castle.

Roar Will Go Up

There will be a hushed silence about 2:30 o'clock. Necks will be craned looking at the concrete runways as the New Castle High and Martins Ferry High football boys trot out on the greensward to limber up. Then a mighty roar will go up from the stands. The game time will be near and that's what the customers want.

The speaking program starting at 2 o'clock will be through in time for the game to start on the dot. The speakers will be Honorable Charles Mayne, mayor of New Castle, the Mayor of Martins Ferry, the two superintendents of the Tin Mills, and the two superintendents of education.

New Castle Ready

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh gave the New Castle High boys the final once over late this afternoon at Taggart Field. Signals were in order. There was only a light workout. The "Old Fox" is not taking any chance on injuries. Two of the New Castle men, Mumford and Nocera are out at the present time with injuries, suffered in the Charleroi game.

It is doubtful if Mumford will start the game tomorrow. Nocera is still limping badly on his injured ankle. Cabas will get the call at quarter if Mumford cannot start. Krezo or Covelli will play the end job if Nocera is unable to go.

Linemen In Shape

The remainder of the New Castle lineup will be the same as started at Charleroi with Toscano star end in the best of shape and rarin' to get at those Ohioans. Frank "Tarzan" Crisci and Charley Probst will hold down the tackle posts and a glimpse at the weight of the Martins Ferry tackles would seem to indicate that Frankie and Charley are in for an afternoon of footballing. The guards will be Small and Leonard, both capable performers. At center in place of Adamo will be "Dynamite" Malley, a reserve man and a lot depends upon this youngster tomorrow.

Engs And Donegan

The fans will watch young Robert "Flash" Engs and Eddie Donegan. Much has been written and said about this pair of clever halfbacks. They will both be "marked men" tomorrow. Martins Ferry has been practicing all week long trying to stop plays similar to the off-tackle thrusts used so effectively by Bridenbaughmen.

At fullback will be Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio, the bone-crusher Italian boy. DeCaprio is slowly developing into a great fullback. He has the weight and power. A lot also depends upon this boy in the coming battle.

Ohioans Heaviest

Martins Ferry will have a weight advantage both on the line and in the backfield. It is three pounds on the line. The difference in the backfield is 14 pounds. The New Castle team is hoping for a nice clear sunshiny afternoon with a hard playing surface.

Coach Frank Loucks, is a bundle of nerves today. He sends his Purple Riders into their toughest engagement on the morrow. He looked over the line and backfield for the final time today. He pronounced them ready for the gruelling battle that awaits them.

Expect Big Crowd

The playing of Bennett, the big fullback, will be eagerly watched by the fans, so will the playing of Elias and M. Orend. These boys are the three best bets in the vistors backfield. Dapis is used as a blocker.

The game that the fans have been waiting for is about to be unfolded here. It will be the first day game at home for the sons of Pa Newc. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is scanning the skies today.

"With a break from the weatherman, we would put 10,000 fans into Taggart Stadium Saturday" was the statement from Mr. Gardner.

New Castle "Red Hurricane" Backfield Stars

MUMFORD Q. B. | DECAPRIO F. B. | ENGS L. H. | DONEGAN R. H.

It is this quartet of backfield stars whom Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is depending upon Saturday to defeat Martins Ferry high. The game at Taggart stadium promises to be one of the best of the year. The "Red Hurricane" is ready for the toughest battle of the season tomorrow. The average weight of the boys pictured above is 153. DeCaprio is the heaviest man weighing 175. Engs is the lightest tipping the scales at 135. The Martins Ferry high team will have an advantage in weight in the backfield of 14 pounds. The four men in the picture have been responsible for many of the New Castle victories this year. It is the lightest backfield that New Castle high has had for many years.

New Castle awaits the invasion of the big "Purple Riders" from Ohio.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Remodelling of the third floor of the East Washington quarters of the Jefferson Athletic club is under way and when the place has been revamped it is expected that it will be one of the most up-to-date training places for athletes and men who wish to keep in good physical condition in this vicinity. The club has obtained the ring equipment which was at the Castle bowl. Hot and cold water showers are being installed and according to officials a steam bath also will be installed. According to the officials there will be Smokers from time to time and the cream of the local amateur boxers will be used.

Members of the local fight colony were pleased greatly yesterday when a report which travelled around the city was found untrue. According to the report Jimmie Dime, tutor and manager of fighters, was seriously ill. When the writer got in communication with Mrs. Dime, it was learned that the veteran is in excellent health. Daily Dime travels to his training quarters in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. and imparts fistic knowledge to several youngsters who Dime hopes to develop into good scrappers. As fistics affair here are at a standsill and nearby towns have few boxing bouts not many of the local boys obtain a chance to show themselves but with an upturn in work conditions and more circulation of money pugilism will be resumed in all of the nearby cities and also New Castle providing a good place can be secured in which to stage them.

Sergi Kalmikoff, the bearded Russian, who tipped the scales at 225 pounds threw Hans Kempher, German strong man, after 21 minutes and 25 seconds of wrestling in the main bout last night at Pittsburgh. In the semi-final, a 45 minute time limit match, Jim McMillen, former Illinois football star, downed Walter Podolok, of Syracuse in 32 minutes and 48 seconds. It was a hard wrestled match.

Scoring 14 points in the final three innings at Chicago last night, Augie Kieckhefer, of Chicago, triumphed over Allen Hall, of St. Louis 50 to 47, in making his opening bid for the three cushion billiard championship of the world. Welker Cochran of San Francisco, the present 18.2 balk line champion, won his initial game of the tourney by defeating Otto Reiselt, 50 to 49, in 49 innings.

Just wait. You'll see action when the victims of fool drivers band together and demand a pension.

Davis Walsh Picks Notre Dame To Win, Pitt To Beat Army

DARTMOUTH ALSO PICKED TO WIN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—After what happened last week, the Fumblefinger A. C. didn't meet today. It was informed that certain narrow minded and unreasonable persons had revived the vigilantes and were coursing through the streets, looking for those who bore the insignia of the finder, which for the sake of confusion is a skull, superimposed upon a background of blackjacks.

The members, anyhow, decided to pay no attention to these malcontents. They also decided, until further notice, to pay no attention to each other. This had been under consideration for many weeks and had nothing to do with threats of violence by those who do not understand the spirit of the fumblers. We simply felt that perhaps the greater good might be served the greater number if we did not meet too openly, thus bringing about further misunderstandings of the kind they sometimes have to treat in the emergency hospital.

Irish Favored

We therefore, with the furtive air of one who leaves a foundling upon a door step, waited until the dead of night before venturing out to the mail-slot and we are indebted to the department of street cleaning for the news that California and Marquette have been defeated tomorrow for the first time.

Grove City At Bethany Saturday

Coach Bill Amos Will Start Inexperienced Team At Bethany

GROVE CITY, Nov. 8—Coach Bill Amos and 26 Grove City players left by bus at noon today for Washington, Pa., where they will spend the night before continuing to Bethany Saturday for a football game that has every prospect of another Crimson defeat. Amos has been warning his squad all week that the Bisons will have the advantage in weight and experience, and has aroused the Grovers to a spirit that may produce one of the season's upsets.

Two regulars were left behind when the Grovers boarded the bus. They are Howard Wilson, fullback, and Harry Bream, center, who are not fully recovered from injuries. Amos plans to start George Ketler, freshman, son of President W. C. Ketler. The youngster had his first college football experience last week against Slippery Rock, and showed promise. Wilson has been out of action since the second game of the season.

Catholics Play West Pittsburg

Members of the powerful Catholic football team are drilling diligently in preparation for next Sunday afternoon when the South Siders lineup against the West Pittsburg eleven, at Colonial field.

The contest promises to be one of the most exciting independent tussles in the city. The West Pittsburg gridders have yet to taste defeat, having captured seven straight victories. The Catholics also boast an enviable record, 33 triumps out of 36 games, in two years.

CATHOLICS TO PLAY

The Catholic A. C. football team will meet the Shenangoes at Rosena Furnace field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced by Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio today. Both teams have won three victories and this game will decide the South Side championship.

Westminster Is Badly Crippled

Will Play Morris-Harvey On Saturday With Patched Up Lineup

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8.—Something of a jinx continued to follow the Westminster gridders this week when John Susko, varsity tackle, left the field with badly bruised ribs which will probably keep him out of Saturday's game with Morris-Harvey.

Last week, Kozar, varsity guard, received a leg injury that will keep him out for the remainder of the season, and the week before Harry Shoup, freshman backfield hope, was taken to the hospital with a badly sprained ankle. With a very small squad to begin the season with, Coach Gilbane has been unfortunate in losing three first-string men.

The 45-0 score against Edinboro last Saturday, which broke an 11-year record at Westminster for Titan scoring, is not easing up training. Gilbane has worked the Titans hard all week, perfecting laterals and triple threat reverses that require speed and smoothness for perfection.

Although the Titans allowed their passing game to rest during the Edinboro game, Arrowsmith and E. Wright are getting plenty of practice this week, tossing passes to Bailey and Laraway. The huge holes thru which Bailey, Clark and Arrowsmith galloped in the Teachers game probably won't be there against Morris-Harvey. At least, Coach Gilbane is expecting to use all the strategy possible in case the line fails to open up the necessary gaps.

Clark and Mintz, fullbacks, who have been laid up temporarily with bad shoulders, will both be able to start against the West Virginians. The fullback berth has been the chief point of competition on the Titan squad, with Clark, 190-pound plunger; Mintz, diminutive back, and E. Wright, lanky passer and plunger, all bidding for the job.

Saturday's game is the last on the home field, the season ending with Geneva at Beaver Falls, Nov. 15.

The reason we have unsolved national problems is because we never manage to get all of the smart people on the same side.

Stock Market Is Stronger

Tremendous Trading In Utility Shares Is Market Feature

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Tremendous trading in the utility shares overshadowed the stock market today following the decision ruling the holdings company law unconstitutional.

The general market was strong in sympathy with utilities but slipped later in a rush to take profit. Motors, coppers, chemicals and farm equipments lost early gains to go under the previous close. Steels and rails held small fractional advances.

Gains in utilities ran to two points at the start but these were shaved later. Big blocks were common, including 50,000 shares each of Commonwealth & Southern and United Corp., and 15,000 National Power & Light. These, however, were outstripped on the curb where Cities Service started with 110,000 shares, the biggest block in years; American Superpower with 35,000 shares and Electric Bond & Share with 25,000 shares.

The ticker lagged by three minutes during the first hour.

Communications were buoyant, American Telephone rising over two points and Western Union more than a point.

Utility liens staged a buoyant demonstration on the bond market but the rest of the list was quiet. Cotton was firm and grains irregular. Foreign currencies continued under pressure.

Award Is Ruled As Too Excessive

New York Judge Says "Award Of $25,000 To William, Too Much

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Supreme Court Justice Daniel V. McNamee today ruled excessive the $25,000 award to John D. Williams, a former state director and publicity man, in a breach of contract suit against Maude Adams, famous actress, according to Satterlee and Canfield, law firm of this city.

Williams set forth in his suit he had worked from 1927 to 1931 in persuading Miss Adams, who retired in 1918, to return to the stage. He sued her and the Erlanger theatrical interests, under whose management she appeared, for his services, which he valued at $200,000.

Miss Adams testified Williams had told her repeatedly he wanted the business arrangements with the management and no financial arrangements with her. The $200,000 suit was dismissed as it affected the Erlanger theatrical interests.

Pass Ordinance To Build New City Building

All Necessary Action To Expediate Work When Official Approval Arrives

APPROVE ELECTRIC POWER CONTRACT

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 8.—The only thing required now for a new municipal building for Ellwood City is the official approval and appropriation of WPA funds by the government.

At their monthly meeting in the city building on Sixth street last night the borough council passed an ordinance approving and authorizing a new city building. The ordinance gave right to go ahead with the plans and secure an architect. It was passed on the first and final reading.

Council at this time accepted the contract of the Pennsylvania Power company to furnish current for the borough for the next five years. An appreciable concession was given the borough over the previous contract and a nice saving will be realized in the five-year period.

A number of other ordinances were passed at the meeting last night. The local barbers' union presented an ordinance which would regulate the local shops in opening, closing, health and sanitation. It was passed on the first reading.

An ordinance vacating an alley on Summitt avenue so as to permit the Ellwood Foundry company to expand, was passed. The company will open another alley. The relocation of a curb line so as to narrow the cartway on Hazel avenue and College street to the lands of J. A. McCandless was passed. A building line was established on certain streets in Ewing Park by the passing of an ordinance.

Upon recommendation of the rules and regulations committee council approved the request of the Women's club to plant trees at certain advantageous positions in the borough. The trees are to be furnished by the club and council voted to stand the cost of planting, transporting, etc.

Council voted to pay Architect B. J. McCandless $1,000 on account for plans and specifications for the new municipal building. Not long ago council had selected a Colonial type construction at a special meeting.

Ellwood To Meet Undefeated Team

Blue And White To Play Second Game At New Brighton Saturday

LOCALS IN FINE SHAPE FOR TILT

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 8.—Coach "Denny" Schill's flashy Ellwood City high grid eleven will journey to New Brighton tomorrow afternoon for a battle with Coach George Roark's strong and undefeated machine at Oak Hill Field.

The locals are really in shape for this encounter. All the injuries have responded to care and rest and Coach Schill will have his strongest lineup available for action. Only one thing has happened to give Coach Schill some concern. Jiggs Hazen, who has been sharing the right end duties with Jim Flanagan, got a thorn in his foot while hunting a day or so ago. As a result he has a bad swelling. It is unlikely that he will be able to play. Coach Schill still has a pair of good end reserves in Welsh and Bartle.

Only one scrimmage was held this week. The remainder of the time was spent in working out new plays which will be used to cope with New Brighton's defense. They also scrimmaged against the third team which used the opponent's plays. Several long sessions have been held on the tackling dummy this week. Less action than usual this week has made the locals just itching for battle.

In view of the circumstances there will be two changes in the lineup from a week ago. Jim Flanagan will again be at his regular end position instead of Hazen. He has been out for the past two weeks with a strained ligament. Little "Russia" Funari, the speed merchant, who has been the spark plug to Ellwood's attack will start at quarterback in place of Luxenberg. It is also expected that Al Biego will see plenty of action at fullback before the game is over. His hard charging and blocking and defensive ability has made him invaluable to Coach Schill.

Ellwood realizes that they will be up against a tough proposition tomorrow. With green material to begin with, Coach Roark has developed gradually a formidable combination. They have won six out of seven games and tied one. The strong Sharpsville high team of Mercer county held them to a scoreless deadlock. New Brighton will be out to preserve their record tomorrow. Ellwood is given better than an even chance to snap it in view of their fine improvement of the past four weeks.

The probable lineup:

Ellwood—		New Brighton—
Hughes	L.E.	Miller
H. Young	L.T.	Beitsch
Pishioneri	L.G.	Yard
Kraynak (c)	C.	Budiscak
Miller	R.G.	Snowberger
Tammaro	R.T.	Bedison
Flanagan	R.E.	Suskiewich
Funari	Q.B.	Kovach
W. Young	L.H.	Monit
Bognosky	R.H.	J. Laposki
Scopelite	F.B.	A. Laposki

Witnesses Will Give Testimony In Hoey Death

Two New Witnesses Will Be Heard By Grand Jury In West Chester

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 8.—Two new witnesses, one of whom will present important evidence concerning the relations of Henry Huddleston Rogers, III, with his blonde actress sweetheart, Evelyn Hoey, will be called in a grand jury probe of the girl's death, District Attorney William E. Parke announced here today.

Setting next Tuesday as the date for the special investigation—called after a coroner's jury returned an "open verdict" in Miss Hoey's fatal shooting September 11—Parke said the new witnesses would be Edward Thorp Gray of New York and Charles Renshaw of West Chester.

Gray, described as a friend of the late Broadway stage singer, will testify concerning her relations with Rogers, Parke revealed. Renshaw, a friend of Rogers' family, is said to have talked to the girl by telephone the night of her death at Rogers' farmhouse near Downingtown.

Rogers, his friend, William J. Kelly, a movie cameraman, and the six-man coroner's jury are among other witnesses subpoenaed. Rogers and Kelly were held on technical suspicion of murder charges during the inquest, but were released following the "open" decision.

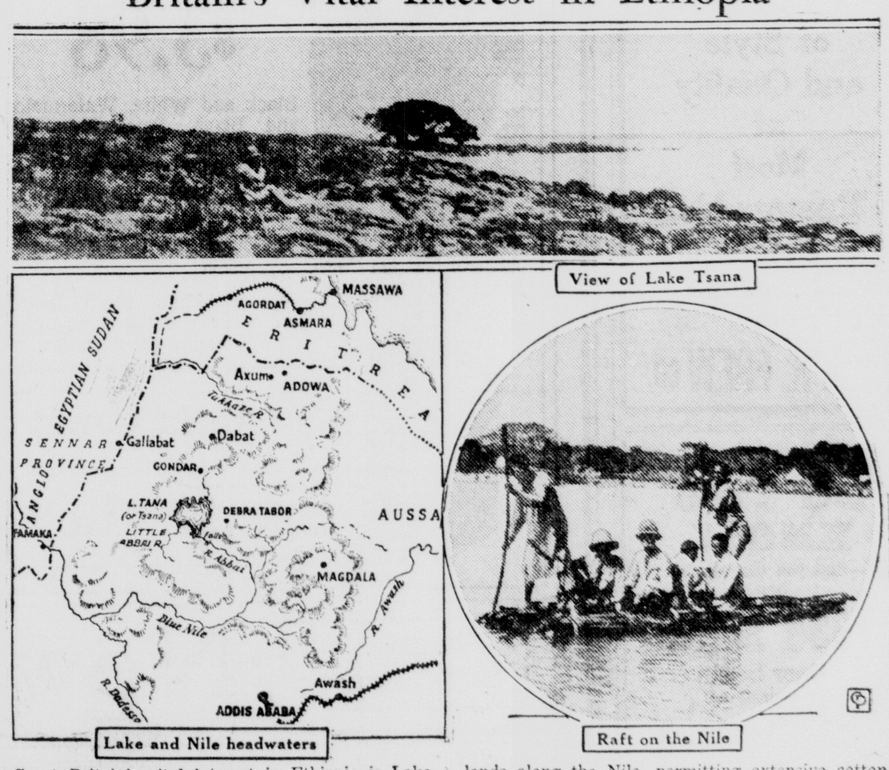
Britain's Vital Interest in Ethiopia



Great Britain's vital interest in Ethiopia is Lake Tsana, source of the Blue Nile. The British are reputed to have offered Emperor Haile Selassie $5,000,000 for the lake, but the emperor refused. Now Italy may gain it by conquest, which disturbs the British. Lake Tsana's waters at present irrigate lands along the Nile, permitting extensive cotton cultivation in Egypt. If Italy should deflect the waters, it could irrigate vast stretches in Ethiopia for cotton growing, at the same time hampering the growth of cotton in Egypt and reducing cotton imports into Italy.

Stevens "Smithy" To Be Restored

(International News Service)

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. — The blacksmith shop of Thaddeus Stevens, noted industrialist, statesman and "savior" of the public school system in Pennsylvania, is going to be restored to its original state by the state forestry department.

A photograph taken of the blacksmith shop late in the last century will guide the department in renovating the little old gray stone building at Caledonia Park, which served as a depot during the days of trolley service between the park and Chambersburg.
